A Dress Can Have More Than One Love Story...
Life is Beautiful, Dress For It

Welcome

Thank you for your interest in consigning your wedding gown with SixPence & Sage. Our Loved But Not Forgotten collection offers beautiful gowns the opportunity to begin another love story while helping brides discover their dream dress at an accessible price.

How Consignment Works

- Submit photos and details of your gown by email (noted in google forms).
- Our team reviews the dress to ensure it fits the aesthetic of our collection.
- If approved, we schedule an appointment for you to bring the gown to the boutique.
- We determine a fair resale price based on condition, designer, and market demand.
- Your gown is displayed and marketed in the boutique.
- When the gown sells, you receive your consignor payout.

Gowns We Typically Accept

- Designer or boutique-quality gowns
- Gowns less than 5 years old
- Professionally dry cleaned
- Excellent condition
- Minimal alterations

Consignor Welcome Package

A dress can have more than one love story.

Every wedding gown holds a moment—of love, celebration, and a day that mattered deeply. At SixPence & Sage, we believe that story doesn't have to end after one beautiful chapter.

Loved But Not Forgotten was created to honour gowns that deserve to be cherished again. By consigning your dress, you're giving it the chance to be discovered, worn, and loved once more—while helping another bride find something truly meaningful.

We're honoured to be part of your gown's journey.

Why Brides Love Pre Loved Gowns

- Sustainable options that reduce waste
- Designer gowns at more accessible price points
- Dresses they can take home immediately

Pricing Your Gown

Most pre loved gowns are priced at approximately 40–50% of their original retail value.

Factors include designer, condition, age, alterations, and market demand.

Pricing Adjustments

Pricing may be reviewed and adjusted during the consignment period to support a successful sale.

Early Removal of Consigned Items

If you choose to remove your gown early, a $50 administrative fee will apply. Requests must be made in writing.

Liability & Risk Acknowledgment

SixPence & Sage is not responsible for theft, fire, damage, loss, or unforeseen events. All items are left at consignor's risk.

We look forward to helping your gown begin its next beautiful chapter.
