FLYING and FRIENDS

JILL FELDMAN, CHAIRMAN

Dear Chicago Area Chapter 99s,

In lieu of my normal Chairman's letter, I read this letter in the International 99s archives and thought it was interesting and would enlighten us on the feelings of some of the 99s in the early days. I hope you will enjoy this as much as I did! Jill

Cecilia M. Kenny, Buffalo, New York

My Dear Mrs. Kenny:

The impression seems to have gone out that we girl pilots have some sort of conflict with the men pilots. This is exactly the opposite to the facts. We want no militant girl pilots. We are not fighting for anything. We are not striving for any more consideration than we have already received. As a matter of fact, we are trying to bring about a different attitude toward the girl in aviation, whereby, she is accepted as an equal rather than spoiled as something rare and very precious.

So far the girl fliers have received much more gratitude than we deserve in proportion to our achievements. Our slightest accomplishment is hailed as a great feat. For many years men have been doing marvelous things in the air. The aviators in the war accomplished feats and made records that surely no woman can ever hope to attain. We believe that our girls can and will learn to fly as well as the average man, better than many, but it does not seem likely that we will ever equal the remarkable skill of countless men fliers both in our own country and abroad.

In this organization of ours it is hoped that we can encourage girls to enter flying schools with the determination not to accept any special consideration because of her sex. She must make up her mind to learn to do her own work; to accept no quarter from the men, and thereby, learn to be useful. Women have a future in aviation only so long as we prove to be of value. This does not mean publicity value. At present our strong point seems to be that because there are so few of us doing this work, we receive more attention from the public and the press than men who do the same work, and better work. For this reason many girls receive high salaries and fine positions because it is thought they are more valuable from a publicity angle than a man would be in the same position. This will not always be true, for the world will gradually expect women to fly. It will no longer be news of first page interest when a woman takes to the air. When this time comes, girls will have to demonstrate their real ability on a large scale, if they expect to hold their own. This we have not yet done. Some outstanding women have accomplished notable things, but no woman has accomplished anything to compare with the many marvelous things done by the great men pilots. We have no quarrel with the men. They have given us our training. We feel only the deepest gratitude to them for their wonderful patience and their inspiring example.

By trying to eliminate the sex idea in flying, we are not seeking advantages, but are trying to learn more by working shoulder to shoulder with our men, and by becoming self-reliant, for when we fly solo they are not with us to help in case of emergencies. We have only our judgment to rely upon and if we have not learned to do our own thinking serious difficulties will come about. For our own protection we must all learn to think for ourselves, to rely on ourselves, and to do as much work as possible on our planes.

It must be remembered that this club is for all licensed girl pilots. The new girls have just as much right as those who flew in the Derby. We want your ideas. Won't you take an active interest in this and send us your suggestions? An envelope is enclosed for your reply.

It is earnestly hoped that this girl pilots' club can line up decidedly for national defense. In any emergency, either in peace time or war time, an efficient corps of girl fliers could be of real service to their country. In a devastated flood area or a section destroyed by fire, or any other difficulty that might arise in

HIGHLIGHTING OUR MEMBER

I started flying in 1970. I was enjoying skydiving and after my brother and I realized that our jump pilot was old and if something happened to him on climb out we would all die because none of us knew how to fly the plane. I got my Private in 1971 at Campbell airport in Grayslake.

I then moved down to Midway airport where I got the rest of my ratings with my brother as my instructor. He had received his flight training through the GI bill and got his ratings quickly. I got my CFI in 1979 and instructed out of Midway. I was appointed as a Designated Pilot Examiner in 1990.

I joined the 99's in 1972. I have served as vice chairman and also on the Illi-Nines race board. I have attended many section and international meetings throughout the years.

It has been my pleasure to be a pilot examiner all these years because of the sheer joy of seeing a great big smile on applicants when I tell them they have passed their test and will receive their certificate or rating that they have worked so hard to get. I have flown with people of all ages but the one thing they have in common is the feeling of accomplishing their goals. Unless you have experienced this, it would be hard to describe it. Just take my word for it.

Your Air News Editor would like to highlight other members. Please send a few paragraphs and a photo for future use.

GAIL LAPOOK

3 generations of Priester family and Gail on the day grandson Alex earned his Commercial Pilot Certificate: Grandpa Charlie Priester, Gail, Grandson Alex and Dad G.J. Priester.

any other difficulty that might arise in peace time, women could carry supplies to devastated areas, they could act as dispatch fliers, and be really useful. They could release men for work requiring greater skill than they already possess. In war time girls could fly hospital ships, ferry airplanes, do dispatch flying of various sorts, carry passengers in some cases, and the best of the girls might possibly fly well enough to carry the Government mails. Many of these things, however require the utmost skill and long years of experience. Our men have demonstrated all these fine qualities. They are flying every day thousands of miles in all kinds of weather and without the slightest attention from either the public or the press. If we would approach them in usefulness and skill, we must learn to fly in this same self- sacrificing way, without hope of big rewards. This is a high goal to strive toward, but it gives us a star to shoot at. It should be an inspiration to all American girls to learn to fly, to develop skill, and fit ourselves for the splendid work ahead in aviation.

Yours for a most successful New Year and happy landings.

Opal Kunz, Acting President

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

from Ellen O'Hara

I attended GS Cookie Rally Day on January 6, 2018, at All State Arena in Rose mont and handed out 200 Aviation Day fliers to leaders and teens. I was also asked to be a judge for the Girl Scouts' Guinness Book of Records challenge and was given a set of seats in the arena. The record of people who Dunked the Most Cookies (and they were all Girl Scout cookies!) was achieved and recorded at 3,236, surpassing 1,800 previously recorded in India. What fun!

May 12 GS Aviation Day at PWK Wheeling!

We will continue to hand out the half-sheet fliers at our meetings and you are encouraged to give them to your neighbors and friends for their daughters and granddaughters and other young gals they know at church and meetings. We accept grades 4-12 for our day and a patch and snacks are given to the scouts. Adults may also attend. All the info is shown including Program 321478 at their address: GCNWIprograms.org

While handing out fliers in January at the GS Cookie Rally at All State Arena, four separate leaders said they had previously attended our Aviation Day and were definitely going to be there again this year! Sometimes people just need to know the date and info.

Remember that EVERYTHING in aviation covers the educational STEAM subjects:

Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts, and Mathematics.
