

GO WEST...YOUNG BLACK MAN!

It's so sad to hear and see Americans (more specifically, Black Americans) descend on Kanye West like a mob of zombies to satisfy democratic socialists who are not truly committed to the plight of Black America. Why is it that people of other ethnic backgrounds can say and think freely without backlash from their own demographic group? But, let a black man or woman in America be their own person, be a republican/conservative, speak his or her own mind, stand up for their beliefs, principles and values or political views, and they are immediately attacked and condemned. Why? It is because the Democrats and left-wing progressives have for decades systematically conditioned black people to believe that they are incapable of thinking for themselves: incapable of ideological independence; incapable of achieving economic power; and incapable becoming a political force. Blacks in America are the only ethnic group that the left has conditioned to be monolithic and have set the expectation that they are to remain so.

This all started with President Lyndon B. Johnson and his so-called "The Great Society" (social programs) which was nothing more than a political tactic to get blacks to vote for Democrats after 82% of Republicans vs 78% of Democrats voted in the House to pass the Civil Rights Act of 1964-1965. In the Senate, the Republicans overwhelmingly supported it while Southern Democrats rejected it. Democrat Senator Robert C Byrd (a known grand wizard of the KKK and a man whom Hillary Clinton claimed as her mentor) filibustered for 14 hours and 13 minutes in an effort to stop the passage of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. Surely this did not look good for the Democrats, so Johnson devised a plan. He said that his plan would keep "niggras" voting for Democrats for the next 200 years. THE PLAN: give them free stuff. The game is still being played by Democrats today: free cell phones, free health care, free college...free, free, free.

What Black America needs more than anything is to wake up and realize that freedom is not free. The fight to be free in yesteryears and holds true today involves more than taking handouts from liberals like Pelosi and Schumer who are political hacks (white millionaires) to whom the day- to- day life and struggles of a black person is truly of little value; but the vote that each black person possesses is of immense value.

Freedom is being able to speak your mind, set your goals and achieve your dreams. Only in America can you come from the bottom and reach the top if you believe in yourself and hold on tight to your faith.

It's time to show that Black Americans have enormous intellectual might and that we are free and independent thinkers and doers. If you look deep into American history, you can't help but uncover the fact that Black Americans have made life-changing contributions to the growth, prosperity and expansion of this nation and the world with amazing inventions through endless research and development in science and medicine as well as in the arts. We must not forget the countless achievements of black athletes in the world of sports. At this point, I dare anyone to tell me that I am not speaking the truth!

By the way, it is beyond the time for new leadership in Black America. The "race-hustling era" must end and a new era of economic and political independence and individualism must begin. Time to say farewell to "self-ordained, snake oil-selling Reverends" who stuff their pockets with "blood-money"; who run over each other to get photo ops on the major news outlets. Time to say goodbye to the self-proclaimed leaders who for few pieces of silver will cut back-door deals with the promise that they could and would deliver the black vote. It is time to move forward to a place where every black man and black woman can stand tall and proudly say, (without fear of reprisal or attack from anyone), "I TOO, AM AN AMERICAN!" It is time for politicians on the left to know that you don't own the black vote. Why? Because you don't own what you have not earned.

Warning when the Progressives/Socialists run out of free stuff in the end the cost will be your freedoms.
