OUR STORY

The Peanut Farm was constructed in 1958. Empty peanut shells lined the floor. By 2005 we became the mecca of sports bar dining in Alaska. With 70 screens of sports viewing and state of the art audio engineering, you will never miss a minute of the game. Plus, there's a deck right on the creek. A prime viewing area for local wildlife like river otters, beavers, moose, geese and ducks. No matter what the season, you'll find our place endlessly entertaining.

OUR TIMELINE

1958:

In the beginning with help from well-known log builder Lee Cole, Peanut Farm was started by using a log scribe Scandinavian method for the building and the Campbell Creek bridge.

1962:

Opening of the original 2,000 sq foot log building with bar and entertainment (empty peanut shells were a part of the flooring!)

1986-1988:

Remodel of the original log cabin with restrooms and a new 500 sq foot kitchen. Peanut farm offered a full menu with our famous Burger & Brew!

1995-1997:

A new 800 sq foot log (non-smoking) addition was completed for extra dining and expanded sports viewing.

1999:

A 700 sq foot north addition was added which expanded the kitchen and included much needed storage, cooler and loading dock.

2002:

Rebuilt and rejuvenated the original 60-foot bridge across Campbell Creek.

2005:

Completion of the New Peanut Farm expansion which includes a deluxe sports bar & grill with 24-foot ceilings, an elaborate 80-foot bar and pizza kitchen, numerous large projection screens, a sunny heated deck and attached walkway. There is also a new (east) parking lot with loads of parking (120 spaces).
