Erica Franolich was last seen around 9 pm on October 13, 1986, near Main Street and Railroad Avenue in Middleburgh, New York.

At the time, she lived with her husband, Richard, and their young son. The marriage was troubled, and she reportedly told her brother she was afraid for her life and wanted to leave. Richard told police Erica had gotten on a bus and he did not hear from her again. She was reported missing by her family in Michigan in February 1987.

Erica was last seen wearing a baggy shirt and blue denim overalls. She has a mole on her left knee and protruding upper front teeth.
