CMO Partners Achieves ISO 13485:2016 Certification

Billerica, MA January 4, 2023 – CMO Partners, Inc., a Boston area state-of-the-art contract manufacturer for the diagnostics industry, is proud to announce it has received ISO 13485:2016 certification as a “manufacturer of test kits which includes various buffer, reagents, and other approved materials.”

ISO 13485:2016 is the most widely recognized manufacturing standard and indicates that CMO Partners quality management system (QMS) conforms to the international standard for product enhancement, manufacture, and distribution of medical products. CMO is a rapidly growing manufacturer supporting biotech and diagnostic companies in various stages including pilot, clinical study, and commercialization plans.

“This certification is another building block towards making CMO Partners a great resource partner for companies with awesome technology looking to develop their product with an experienced manufacturing team,” said Anand Panchu, CEO.
