Artists (l-r) Stephanie Angelo, Suzanne McLeod and Rachael Wilcox hosted Lives Touched by Cancer

In November, the Wellness Community hosted two benefit events in our lovely space:

Lives Touched by Cancer featured the work of three local artists in response to cancer in their families. An evening reception brought together friends and family to celebrate the strength we find when facing cancer together. A highlight was the musical contribution of Wellness Community participant Lisa Landy. Throughout the month, visitors had the opportunity to view the art work and reflect upon their own cancer experience. Thank you to artists Rachael Wilcox, Suzanne McLeod and Stephanie Angelo for organizing the art show and fundraiser.

Strides for Hope team member Catherine Melina hosted a Saturday night fundraising party for the Arizona marathon team complete with fine food, fantastic music and fun raffles. The space was transformed into a festive piano bar with jazz rhythms, classical duets and a bit of bogeying in the hall. During the evening Catherine and Wellness Community participant Ann Stauble shared their personal cancer stories. By being in our space, guests gained an even greater appreciation for the unique role The Wellness Community plays in the lives of cancer survivors.

The Wellness Community space is available for a variety of occasions. If you would like to host your own personal Wellness Community fund raiser or friend raiser, please contact Richard Fahlander to make the arrangements.
