How Did You Hear About Us: Online Referral Pamphlet

About Us:

HypeCentral is a faith based organizational hub, targeting the divinely gifted, those with unique talents and diverse abilities. a community designed to educate, inspire and support. Until now, many gifted individuals remained hidden within shadows of society, questioning how their gifts could translate into gracious support for mankind. By specialization in the understanding of gifts talents, and abilities, HypeCentral, hopes to further a collective insight into the diversity and recommended use of those special abilities globally.

Amor est Clavis

HypeCentral, believes spiritual interventions do occur in daily life. As this league of like-minded people grow in their individual developments, they will have opportunity to share the way life had been prior to our unique hub. Focus groups designed for open discussions will be created as a safe place to talk about the challenges each of them faced during daily interactions with people places and things, including revelations experienced from some elements of nature.

In addition, HypeCentral, finds, divine giftings useful in assisting with emotional or spiritual droughts currently experienced within society. A person's pedigree will not determine whether support or guidance is offered. Coaching, mentorship, intuitive messages, and video tutorials will aid to growth and understanding of gifts. Honorable mentions of song artists, and actors in movies will be used to compliment scenario life balancing. Finally, most Interactions will occur via social media sites, vlogs, e-mail, and workshops with guest speakers. A direct link to Hype Now for open discussions, will be made available helping to keep us happily connected.

HypeCentral's, ultimate goal culminates in expanding on the foundational truth that the greatest gift to be shared with the world is Love. The global landscape in which we now live, is filled with diverse, intelligent, and intuitive people, who fully understand gifts, and abilities not based in charity, can become harmful and reckless. We will aggressively challenge the stigma of this mis-guided service by positive instruction and support along with some safety guidelines.

We are extremely excited to create this Hub. A place where yearning individuals as one cohesive unit can become capable, focused and acutely aware about how to start their journey forward with their gifts, to mankind. HypeCentral, will have done its job well when individuals or groups leave equipped with a better knowledge of Christian based truths...and how to share their divine gift, First locally where they reside and then progressively around the world.
