

LAST SUMMER WE BROUGHT YOU "LAGUNA'S BEST CATCHES," FEATURING 10 of the town's most eligible men. Now, it's only fair that we do you the honor of presenting some of the city's eligible single ladies. Most of us have one—a bright, witty, kind-hearted and all around fabulous lady friend who, to our bewilderment, has not been hooked by a man worthy of her affection. But how can this be, you ask, especially in a place where there's a plethora of "available" men? We wondered the same thing, and became even more perplexed when the nominations came pouring in—most turning up exceptionally attractive, ambitious and adventurous women. We have no doubt that each of these leading ladies will eventually net that perfect catch.

A group of eight women are posed on a stone patio with lounge furniture. They are dressed in formal evening wear. The background shows a hillside town with many houses under a twilight sky. The women are arranged in two rows: four standing in the back and four sitting or leaning on lounge chairs in the front. They are all smiling and holding drinks.
