DESCRIPTION:

January 8: Talking With Kids About Race

Talking about race and racism can be intimidating and uncomfortable but talking openly about racism, bias and differences is critical to raising anti-racist children and transforming systems of oppression.

This session for parents and caregivers will address the following topics and allow time for discussion and Q&A.

- What are social identities?
- What is racism and anti-racism?
- Why should I talk about race?
- How should I talk about race?

Kinship Caregiver workshops are a free online series of workshops that provide guidance for caregivers of children as they navigate the joys, challenges and concerns of raising children.

HOW TO REGISTER

Register in advance for any of the Kinship caregiver workshops at the following link:
