

PRIVACY NOTICE

Trustees of the Christie Pension and Life Assurance Scheme

This privacy notice is for members and beneficiaries of the Christie Pension and Life Assurance Scheme (the "Scheme"). It has been prepared by the Trustees of the Scheme.

This privacy notice replaces the previous privacy notice and supplements any other notices and statements we issue that are specific to particular data collection / processing activities.

Why we are providing this notice to you

As the Trustees of the Scheme, we hold certain information about you and from which you can be identified (either from the information itself or with other information that we may hold) ("personal data"). In line with the transparency requirements of applicable data protection laws, we are required to give you specified information about the personal data we hold about you, how we use it, and the safeguards that are in place to protect it. This notice is designed to give you that information.

Why we process your personal data

The Trustees process personal data about you, in their role as controller, for the proper handling of all matters relating to the Scheme, including its administration and management, calculating, securing and paying benefits and managing liabilities in relation to it.

Details regarding how and why we process your personal data and the legal bases relied on by the Trustees when carrying out this processing are set out in the Schedule. The Schedule also provides information concerning the conditions that we rely upon when processing "special categories" of particularly sensitive personal data (including personal data concerning health).

What personal data we hold and how we obtain it

Please refer to the Schedule for information concerning the types of personal data we hold and process about you.

We obtain some of this personal data directly from you. We may also obtain data from the employers (for example salary information), from a member of the Scheme (where you are or could be a beneficiary of the Scheme as a consequence of that person's membership), and from a variety of other sources including data tracing agencies, public databases, our advisers, and government or regulatory bodies.

Where you have provided us with personal data about other individuals, such as family members, dependants or potential beneficiaries under the Scheme, please ensure that those individuals are aware of the information contained within this notice.

How we will use your personal data

We may use this data to deal with all matters relating to the Scheme, including its administration and management. For further information, please refer to the Schedule.

Organisations that we may share your personal data with

From time to time, we will share your personal data with our advisers and service providers so that they can help us carry out our duties, rights and discretions in relation to the Scheme. These include the sponsoring employer, professional advisers, scheme administrators, insurers, and regulatory authorities where necessary and subject to appropriate safeguards.

In some instances, advisers and service providers will be controllers in their own right and will be directly responsible to you for their use of your personal data. They may be obliged under the data protection laws to provide you with additional information regarding the personal data that they hold about you and how and why they process that data. Further information may be provided to you in a separate notice or may be obtained from the advisers and service providers directly, for example, via their websites. Whenever one of our advisers or service providers acts as a joint controller with us in respect of your personal data, because we jointly determine the purposes and means of processing it, we will agree with them how we are each going to meet our respective and collective obligations under the data protection laws. If you would like more information about how such an arrangement works, please contact us using the contact details below.

We may also provide some of your data to the Scheme's sponsoring employer and its advisers. The advisers and service providers may use personal data to perform their functions as well as for statistical and financial modelling (such as calculating expected average benefit costs and mortality rates) and planning, business administration and regulatory purposes. They may also pass the data to other third parties to the extent they consider it appropriate to do so.

Where requested or if we consider that it is reasonably required, we may also provide your personal data to:

- pensions dashboards (for further information about pensions dashboards, please refer to the Money & Pensions Service website (<https://maps.org.uk/en/our-work/pensions>);
- the Pension Protection Fund; and
- government bodies, regulators and dispute resolution and law enforcement organisations (including the courts, the Pensions Regulator, the Pensions Ombudsman, and HMRC).

They may then use the data to carry out their functions.

Transferring personal data outside the UK

In some cases, recipients of your personal data may be outside the UK. This may include the Trustee's professional advisers, as applicable. It may also include affiliates / overseas offices of the Scheme's service providers. This means your personal data may be transferred outside the UK to a jurisdiction that may not offer an equivalent level of protection as is provided in the UK.

Additional safeguards are in place to protect your personal data when we (or service providers who process personal data on our behalf) transfer it outside the UK as at least one of the following measures is relied on:

- the transfer is to a country that has been deemed to provide an adequate level of protection for personal data by the UK Secretary of State; or
- standard contractual clauses (approved by the relevant governmental or supervisory authority) are in place with the recipient of the data, requiring your personal data to be safeguarded in accordance with applicable laws.

Please contact the Trustees using the contact details below, if you require further information about the safeguards that have been adopted.

How long we keep your personal data

We will keep your personal data stored on our systems for as long as it takes us to provide the pension and other benefits provided under the Rules of the Scheme. We will retain and use your information as necessary to comply with our legal obligations, resolve disputes and enforce our rights.

Your rights

You have a right to access and obtain a copy of the personal data that the Trustees hold about you, and to ask the Trustees to correct your personal data if there are any errors or it is out of date or incomplete.

You have a right to ask the Trustee to erase your personal data where it is being processed on a legal ground other than for complying with a legal obligation and where:

- you believe we no longer need to process the personal data for the purposes identified above and detailed further in the Schedule;
- you had given consent to the processing of the personal data but you subsequently withdraw your consent and there is no other lawful basis upon which we can process the personal data;
- the personal data has been processed unlawfully or it has not been erased when it should have been; or
- you have been successful in objecting to the processing.

In some cases, you may also have a right to request that the processing of your personal data be restricted or to transfer your personal data (for example, to another pension scheme).

In certain circumstances, you also have the right to object to the processing of your personal data, for example:

- where we rely on legitimate interests as our lawful basis for processing; in which case, we must carry out an exercise balancing our legitimate interests with your rights and freedoms as a data subject (if you disagree with the outcome of that balancing exercise you have the right to refer the matter to the ICO); or
- where the processing is for direct marketing purposes.

Where we rely upon your consent to lawfully process your personal data, including explicit consent, you have the right to withdraw your consent to the processing at any time by notifying the Trustees in writing. Withdrawal of consent will not affect the lawfulness of processing based on your consent before it is withdrawn.

You can obtain further information about these rights from the ICO at: www.ico.org.uk or via its telephone helpline (0303 123 1113).

If you wish to exercise any of these rights or have any queries or concerns regarding the processing of your personal data, please contact the Trustees using the contact details provided below. You can also lodge a complaint in relation to this privacy notice or the Trustees' processing activities with the ICO - you can do this via the ICO's website or telephone helpline.

As explained in this privacy notice, one of the reasons we collect and hold your personal data is to administer your Scheme benefits. If you do not provide the information we request, withdraw your consent to the processing, or ask that the personal data we already hold is deleted or that the processing of the personal data be restricted, this may affect our ability to administer your benefits, including the payment of benefits from the Scheme. In some cases, it could mean the Trustees are unable to put your pension into payment or has to stop your pension (if already in payment).

Complaints

You have the right to raise a complaint in relation to the processing of your personal data under data protection law. This is separate from the Scheme's Internal Dispute Resolution Procedure (IDRP), which applies to disputes about your benefits or membership of the Scheme. Details of how we handle complaints related to our processing of your personal data are set out in the Scheme's Complaints Procedure, which can also be requested using the contact details provided in this privacy notice.

Any complaint relating to the processing of personal data will be acknowledged within 30 days of receipt, and responded to fully without undue delay. We will investigate your concern and aim to respond as soon as possible. To help us respond efficiently, we may ask you for further information to clarify your request.

If you are not satisfied with our response, you have the right to lodge a complaint with the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO). The ICO is the UK supervisory authority for data protection matters.

You can contact the ICO at www.ico.org.uk. Helpline: 0303 123 1113. Address: Information Commissioner's Office, Wycliffe House, Water Lane, Wilmslow, Cheshire, SK9 5AF

SCHEDULE

How and why we process your personal data

There are six lawful bases for processing personal data under the UK GDPR and the Trustee ("we", "us" or "our") must rely on at least one of these whenever we process your personal data. The six lawful bases are summarised below.

No	Lawful Basis	Description
1	Consent	You have consented to us processing your personal data for one or more specific purposes.
2	Contract	The processing is necessary for the performance of a contract which you are a party to, or in order to take steps at your request prior to entering into a contract.
3	Legal obligation	The processing is necessary for compliance with our legal obligations as a trustee of an occupational pension scheme.
4	Vital interests	The processing is necessary in order to protect your vital interests or those of another person (vital interests are interests that are essential for someone's life, for example, emergency medical care).
5	Public task or official authority	The processing is necessary for the performance of a task in the public interest or so that we can exercise any official authority that we have vested in us.
6	Legitimate interest	The processing is necessary for legitimate interests pursued by us or the legitimate interests of a third party, unless there is a good reason to protect your personal data which overrides those legitimate interests.

Our legal grounds for processing your personal data are set out in the table below. If you have any comments or concerns about our use of your personal data (including as described below) please contact us directly via the contact details provided in the main privacy notice.
