

Glen Dunzweiler

Filmmaker/Producer/Public Speaker

Bio

Glen Dunzweiler is the creator of the documentary “yHomeless?” on Amazon Prime and the upcoming book “Things I’ve learned From The Homeless”. He taught production design at universities for 11 years (UNLV, UCR, and CSUSB) and then, in 2015, moved to LA to focus on the business side of entertainment. His background as a performer (drummer and actor) pulled him back on stage to share the insights he has gained while working with the homeless, navigating the differences between academic and business success, and producing visceral entertainment and presentations. Please visit his website to see how he may assist you.

Testimonials

“Mr. Dunzweiler has been a valuable asset to B.R.I.D.G.E. [Theatre Project]. His thoroughness, professionalism, preparedness, and mastery of his craft speaks volumes of his character.”

- Joe Quintero (BRIDGE Theatre Project)

“Hearing [Glen Dunzweiler] talk about [his] extensive and widespread career demonstrates to students that they can diversify their portfolio and still have a great life.”

- Rachel Hirst (Youth Business Alliance)

“[yHomeless?] is an insightful, sensitive and thought provoking documentary which changed my perspective of homelessness.”

- Amazon Review

Contact

Please send Glen details on your needs so he can tailor his work to fit your specific event. Visit his home page to contact him.

glendunzweiler.com