

GLEN DUNZWEILER

Filmmaker/Producer + Entrepreneur

Glen Dunzweiler is the creator of the documentary “yHomeless?” and the books Things I’ve Learned From The Homeless and A Degree in Homelessness? Entrepreneurial Skills for Students.

He taught production design at universities for 11 years (UNLV, UCR, and CSUSB) and then, in 2015, moved to LA to focus on business. His mission is to grow people into wealth one story at a time.

He is currently developing the biopic “Deuce” because “Life is an obstacle course. You playin’?!”

“Mr. Dunzweiler has been a valuable asset to B.R.I.D.G.E. [Theatre Project]. His thoroughness, professionalism, preparedness, and mastery of his craft speaks volumes of his character.”

- Joe Quintero (BRIDGE Theatre Project)

“Hearing [Glen Dunzweiler] talk about [his] extensive and widespread career demonstrates to students that they can diversify their portfolio and still have a great life.”

- Rachel Hirst (Youth Business Alliance)

“[yHomeless?] is an insightful, sensitive and thought provoking documentary which changed my perspective of homelessness.”
