

Hello. I would like to nominate my wife Susan Long for the AR Defensive Class. She was very apprehensive about getting her CWL. Your store (at the flea market) was one of the first gun stores she visited not long after she got it. I was with her, and you took some time talking to her about all the aspects of carrying. She purchased a concealment holster from you and you showed her various ways it could be used. When we left, she told me that she was very glad we stopped in and she talked to you. She said you made her feel comfortable and took some of the mystery out of the whole concealed carry thing.

Fast forward to last week...we bought an AR platform rifle and she feels a little intimidated by it. I got your email and the essay contest was in it, and I thought that I would send you a short note and enter her (and me?). I know that you would make her feel like she felt after she first met you. A husband can only do so much as you know. I think your class would really settle her mind and give her the confidence she needs to use the rifle well. I want her to not be afraid, I want her to feel like the first time we left your store...confident.

I think she would really do well in this class so I'm taking a chance and entering her. Thank you very much for the opportunity to enter.
