“Angels 101”

Angels are celestial beings who serve the Divine and are the connections between the physical (3rd dimensional) and spiritual (5th dimensional) realms. Angels assist the Divine in ensuring human protection from evil, help in counseling or guiding humans in becoming more open to the spiritual realm, and bring blessings to those on the Earth.

Different forms of Angels include: humans, some human, animals, and those with just eyes and wings. Angels are here to advise and protect those who seek them. Some hold abilities (Archangels) to help the Divine complete tasks and use these gifts to assist those who pray for help. Angels do not have to be conjured; praying and speaking their name with pure intentions of healing, love, and light brings them to you. The more you build a relationship with the different angels, the easier they can assist you. They never intrude on your free will, but when asked for guidance, you will receive more blessings and love than you will know what to do with!

Join us this month for “Angels 101” class, the following is some of what will be discussed:

- ~ How to connect with angels and ask them for guidance
- ~ The do and don'ts when working with Angels
- ~ The different responsibilities and gifts Angels have

♋ Skywatch for August ♎

The planets are in some tough alignments this month. Chances of getting into trouble or succeeding are heighten, especially the first half of August. On the 1st, an intense powerful connection with Mars, Uranus, and the North Node (path of destiny) in the sign of Taurus, will be felt by everyone. Taurus is a very stubborn sign of the zodiac, yet determined and persistent to accomplish goals. However, if not enough energy or work has been put into a solid plan or solution the Universe will make the necessary changes. This is the time to find better ways of doing things and the Universe will be the guide, get connected with the Divine! Jupiter, Saturn, Neptune, and Pluto are all in retrograde motion for the rest of the summer and some planets until the end of the year. Looking back over the past seven months to examine your life is necessary. Are you creating the life you want? If not, then it's time to redo, rethink, reassess, and redefine what you want. The fiery sign of Leo can be constructive or destructive for moving forward, but the ego needs to be put into check, for best results. A conversation may need to happen asking for help or advice. Mercury moves into Virgo on the 5th and resides there until the 27th. Mercury loves this placement and can help us to see the details that were lacking in our plan. It can also help us to create a plan or path for our highest good. The 22nd until the 25th is a great time for moving forward with health and career changes. The 2nd offers up two wonderful energies for love and money. Make plans to work together with your partner on any issues that have been holding you back from committing to each other. Taurus, Scorpio, Leo, and Aquarius (sun, moon, ascendent) these signs will have the most challenges this month. These are the fixed signs of the zodiac and do not like change, however the only constant is change. Expect the unexpected this month, as anything is possible!! Best days are the 2nd, 24th & 30th. Days to lay low are 1st, 8th and 26th. Be at Peace ~

This stone is a quartz crystal that has been treated or vaporized with finely powdered platinum, silver, and other trace metals. Resulting in a shimmering iridescent color on the stone. Angel Aura has a delicate uplifting feel creating a sense that Angels are assisting you. Meditating with these stones elevates the spirit and creates ease to enter the inner temple of the self. Remembrance of past incarnations, and the opportunity to communicate with angelic and loving spiritual entities are among the possibilities when working with this stone. Carrying this stone helps to release stress. It works well with Kunzite, pink tourmaline, and lithium quartz.
