“What is an Aura?”

Auras are invisible energy fields that surround the human body. In fact, there is an energy field, or aura, around everything, even a rock or the kitchen sink. An aura does surround the entire body, however, it is also a part of every cell of the body, making it an extension of the body. The word “aura” is Greek and translates to “breeze.” The energies flowing through our auras reflect our personalities, lifestyles, moods, and emotions. Auras also reveal our mental, physical, and spiritual well-being. The aura contains color which is created from light. These colors and light can be captured with a special camera. Ever wonder what is the color of your aura? Does the color change or stay the same? What can be revealed in the aura? These questions and more can be answered by our guest this month Eddie Pendleton, who will be visiting the center with her special aura photography equipment. Her machine allows her to take a snapshot of the aura, see how open or closed the chakras may be, and show the colors floating around the aura in real time.

Featured Stone:
Orange Calcite

Keywords: Creativity, playfulness, confidence

Orange Calcite occurs in massive sizes and quantity in Mexico. This stone can be used for healing emotional wounds related to sexual issues or sexual identity. It can also be an ally for those working to recover from childhood experiences of shame and abuse. This stone invigorates playfulness and creativity making it an excellent choice for anyone in the creative arts. It is a great choice for improving business or increasing the flow of money through already established channels. It harmonizes with the other calcites, carnelian, citrine and golden labradorite.

♈ Skywatch for May ♀

Practical, logical, realistic, grounded and determined are all earth sign qualities and May is fully loaded with earth sign energy. The month begins with the Sun & Uranus in Taurus, Saturn & Pluto in Capricorn, and Mercury & Venus will ingress into Taurus by the end of the month. It's a rather rare event with six planets all residing in earth signs until the 21st, so make it count. Some of the best uses of this energy includes getting married, purchasing or remodeling a home, setting long range financial goals, creating art and music plus getting in touch with nature. Now is the time to plant something new and grow it into something long lasting. On the 4th the new moon is in Taurus (the only one this year). This marks the best time to set intentions especially for issues revolving around love and money. The full “Blue Moon” in Scorpio on the 18th provides an opportunity to release stubbornness, obstacles, fears and anything which is no longer serving the situation. If hard conversations need to happen this month wait until after the 21st when the Sun and Mercury move into Gemini, which is beneficial for chatting and long conversations. The sign of the twins will help us to see both sides of the situation. Taurus, Virgo and Capricorn should enjoy the ride this month as good luck is all around. Best days are 4th, 8th, 18th, 22, & 31st. Days to lay low are 1st, 5th (watch out for accidents), 7th and 29th. Be at Peace.
