OAKLAND, CALIF.

C. TITUS BRINGS “GOOD LIFE” HOME AFTER A TWO-CITY RUN ON THE SPIRITUAL ADVISORY TOUR

The recording artist and Realede Records co-founder closed his weekend with a Sunday homecoming at Brick & Mortar Music Hall in San Francisco, and is now booking stages, festivals, partnerships and interviews.

OAKLAND, Calif. (Oct. 15, 2026) Two cities. One weekend. On Saturday, Oct. 10, C. Titus took the stage at The Virgil in Los Angeles as a featured guest on MoneyHill Casino's Spiritual Advisory Tour, presented by Sean Healy Presents. Less than 24 hours later he was home in the Bay, closing out his run at Brick & Mortar Music Hall in San Francisco.

The energy never dropped, and “Good Life,” his single featuring Black Albert, rang out like it was written for that afternoon.

“L.A. on Saturday, then home on Sunday with my people right in front of me. That’s the kind of weekend you work for,” said C. Titus. “‘Good Life’ was made for nights like that, and we’re just getting started.”

The song has traveled a long way in a short time. C. Titus first played “Good Life” for the crowd at San Francisco’s Juneteenth Parade in June, before it was released. Realede Records put it out on July 31, Bay Area DJs kept it in rotation, and by October it was the centerpiece of his tour set.

The weekend capped a year spent on stage. C. Titus closed his NBA All-Star Weekend set in Los Angeles with “Belaire Bottles in the Air,” performed at a Say Word Podcast event during BET Awards Weekend, played Oakland First Fridays in April and took the stage at Lique in Miami in July. His music has been placed on BET, Nickelodeon and USA Network.
