

Reset Recovery Expectations and Agreement

Reset Recovery Sober Homes “Collin’s Place” and Hiawatha House” are family communities for people who are serious about their recovery and want to learn to be successful in their new lives in a safe sober environment. We have strict requirements and expectations of those who are participating in the program. We are not perfect and do not expect perfection from our participants, but rather an honest effort to grow, learn and practice a new way of life, while helping others to do the same.
