◇ SOME JULY EVENTS ◇

The Battle of Gettysburg, seen by many as the most important fight during the Civil War, was fought for three days from July 1 to July 3, 1863. It was a huge victory for the Union against General Robert E. Lee's Confederate troops, as it stopped them from invading the northern territories. It was also this battle that inspired one of the most iconic speeches in history, Abraham Lincoln's "Gettysburg Address".

This day commemorates the adoption of the Declaration of Independence, signed by all 13 colonies, and which marks the beginning of American Independence.

After its completion, Congress unanimously cast their votes in favor of the Declaration of Independence on July 2nd, and it was officially adopted on July 4th.

The Declaration of Independence contained five sections, the introduction explained why the independence of the colonies was vital for Americans, and the body numbered all the complaints they had against the British Crown rule.

On July 8th 1776, the Declaration had its first public reading and brought a feeling of relief and victory to the young nation. The day of July 4th has been since known as America's Birthday.

July 20, 1969 will always be known as one of the most iconic dates in history, as it is the day that Man first landed on the moon. Neil Armstrong and Buzz Aldrin were the astronauts on the crew of the Apollo 11 Space Mission, and the first humans to land on the moon. After landing, Armstrong took the first-ever human steps on the moon and said his now widely famous quote "That's one small step for man, one giant leap for mankind."
