ABOUT

A popular speaker with all types of audiences, Suzie Hall inspires, motivates, challenges and teaches her audiences directly from her lived experience and significant personal transformation journey. A long-time successful Entrepreneur and Founder of four companies, a CEO of Influence, a multiple award-winning Interior Designer and a Community Philanthropist, Suzie is well-known for her significant high-profile leadership positions.

Suzie grew up the daughter of a major college football coach, which prepared her well for her roles in leadership and business. After facing a debilitating “Halftime” in her game of life, she chose to lean into the power of personal transformation instead of allowing the deep-rooted effects of multiple traumas defeat her. She is passionate about helping others to unlock and break through that which is keeping them small in their lives to reach limitless results, outcomes and abundance in their lives.

Incredibly powerful, vulnerable and inspiring, Suzie speaks and writes on the topics of personal transformation, intrinsic leadership, and playing big in the game of life!
