

THE NEW VOICE FESTIVAL

ABOUT US

The New Voice Festival (formerly Narnia Vocal Arts Program) is a one-of-a-kind experience for opera, musical theater, and crossover singers and composers to immerse themselves in the thrill of living as a full-time artist while challenging themselves like never before. Nestled in the beauty of Boise, Idaho, the Vocal Arts and Composers programs take center stage at the Egyptian Theater.

WHAT WE DO

The New Voice Festival Opera/Musical Theater Program, directed by Andrea DelGiudice, includes performances of complete, fully-staged roles in their original language with orchestra, vocal coaching, Italian language classes, as well as opera scenes concerts, masterclasses and career consulting.

The Emerging Artist Program offers the opportunity to study with internationally renowned Italian and American teachers, coaches, and conductors; perform in A Night of Opera and Musical Theater with Serenata Orchestra; perform featured roles in Dido and Aeneas & Aeterna (by audition only); and take part in lectures, masterclasses, and private coachings.

For many composers, writing for the voice draws out their most expressive, artful, and experimental music. It is the most rewarding of all instruments to write for—and the most challenging. The New Voice Composers Studio, directed by Jake Landau, offers early career composers the valuable experience of working directly with singers on their own music.

OUR IMPACT

Community Involvement

Bringing together our community to provide opportunities for singers to receive training and connections to some of the world's most prestigious theatres, universities and conservatories.

Changing Lives

Singers work alongside composers, librettists, and a team of dedicated instructors and artists. All performances include a chamber group or full orchestra, the performance of works in their original languages, and getting singers and composers' pieces up on their feet,
