

FROM ASHES, SHE FOUND PURPOSE.
FROM PAIN, SHE FOUND POWER.
FROM BROKENNESS, SHE FOUND REDEMPTION.

We're always told pain creates purpose. But what do you do when loss forces you to choose between your old life, and creating a new one? We are told we're resilient, yet, what happens when resilience feels like weakness?

When strength becomes a standard you feel like you can't meet? When God is there, but you're not sure if you truly feel Him?
