

Leatherhead Cycles LLC

About me

My name is Adam Dudas, owner and operator of Leatherhead Cycles. It has always been my dream to pursue two things in life, become a firefighter and work on motorcycles.

By the age of 19, I owned my first motorcycle and that's where my love for motorcycle mechanics started. I then started my career as a firefighter shortly after. On my days off from the fire department you can find me working in the garage. I have dedicated myself to providing top-notch maintenance, repair, and part installation services to motorcyclists in the area. As a firefighter and business owner, I understand the importance of safety and reliability, and I bring that same level of professionalism to every project I take on at Leatherhead Cycles.

Reach out to us today for pricing inquiries, quotes, or to schedule an appointment!