

DIAMOND WINDOWS PRINT COLLECTION

Diamond

Windows

This print collection draws inspiration from the graffiti-driven street style of Stephen Sprouse, reimagined through an experimental approach. Using printmaking, collage, and paper-cutting alongside mixed media techniques, I created layered, dynamic prints rich in texture and movement. The process focused on spontaneity and material exploration, resulting in bold yet intentional compositions. These prints were then applied to purse mockups, allowing me to explore scale, placement, and functionality within accessory design. The final outcome bridges artistic expression and product development, merging street culture influences with a refined, contemporary design perspective.

EARL GREY

LEMON GRASS

fancy biscuits

SPARK

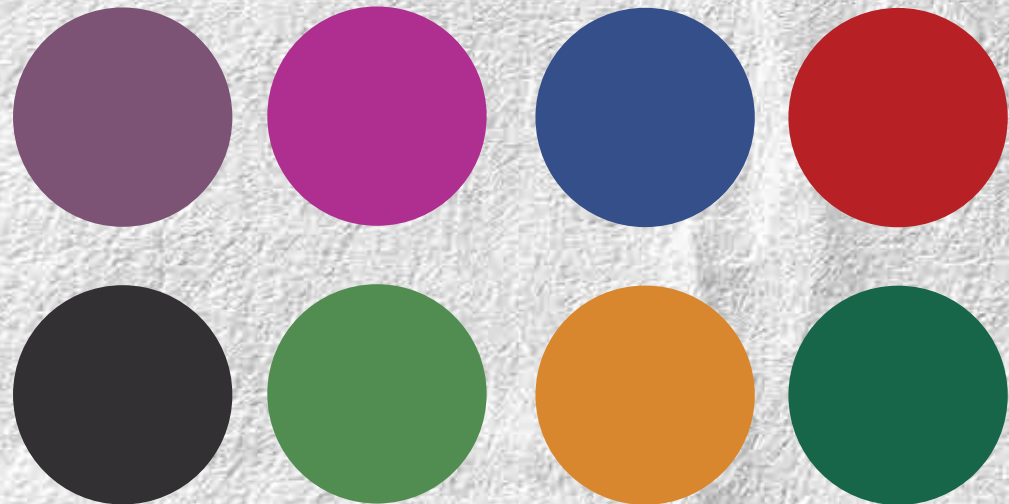

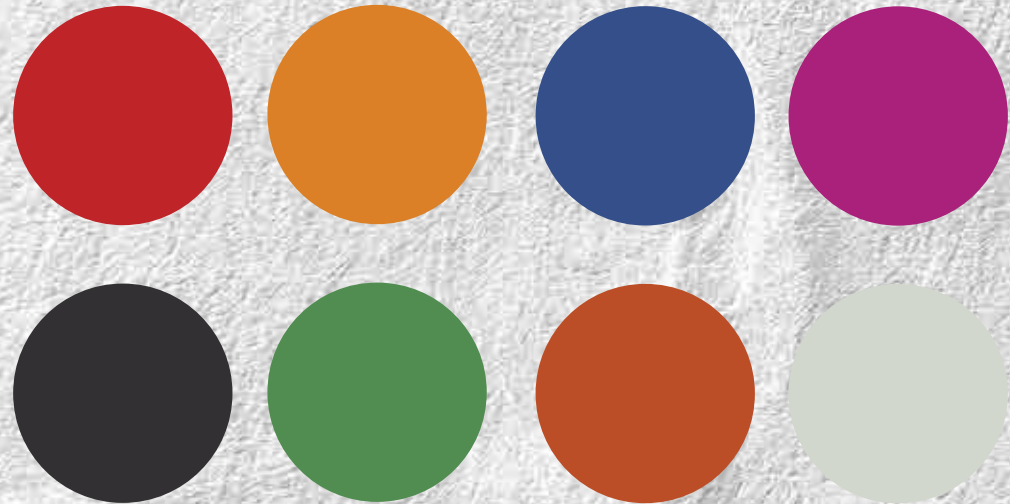

Pink Collage Bag

A playful mix of layered textures and vibrant collage, this shoulder bag channels an art-forward spirit with its glossy finish and sculptural strap detail.

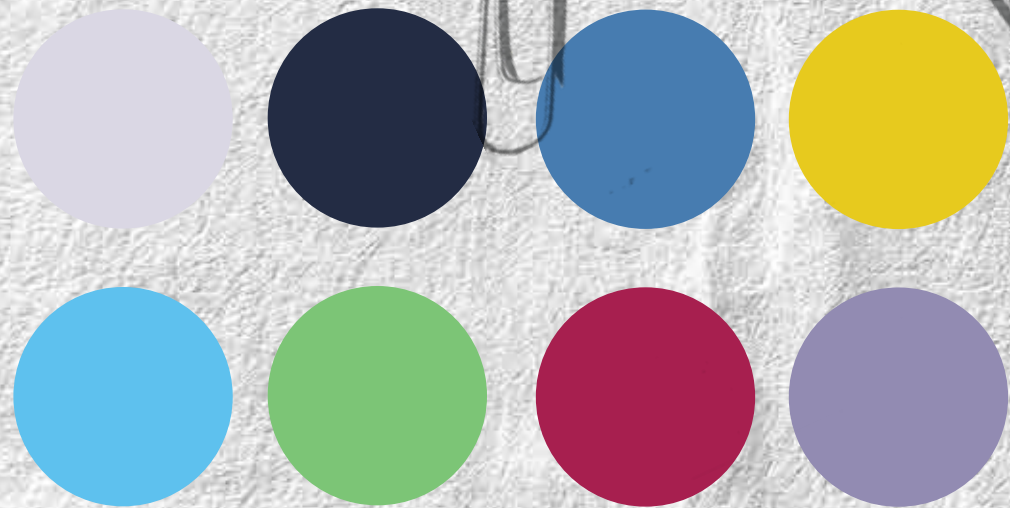

Green Cameras

A vibrant statement piece, this slouchy carryall features layered graphic prints set against a rich green base, evoking a playful yet urban energy. Finished with soft tan handles and gathered detailing, it blends bold artistry

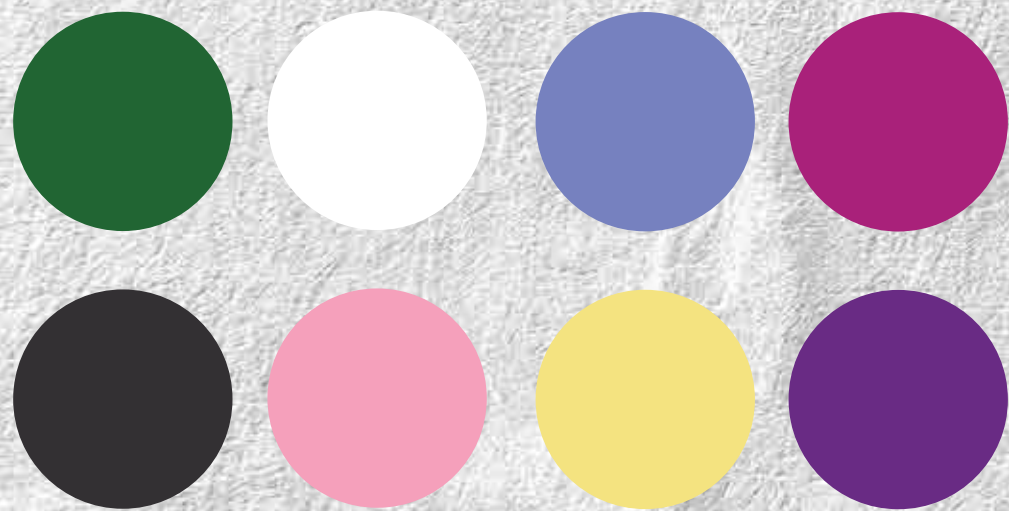

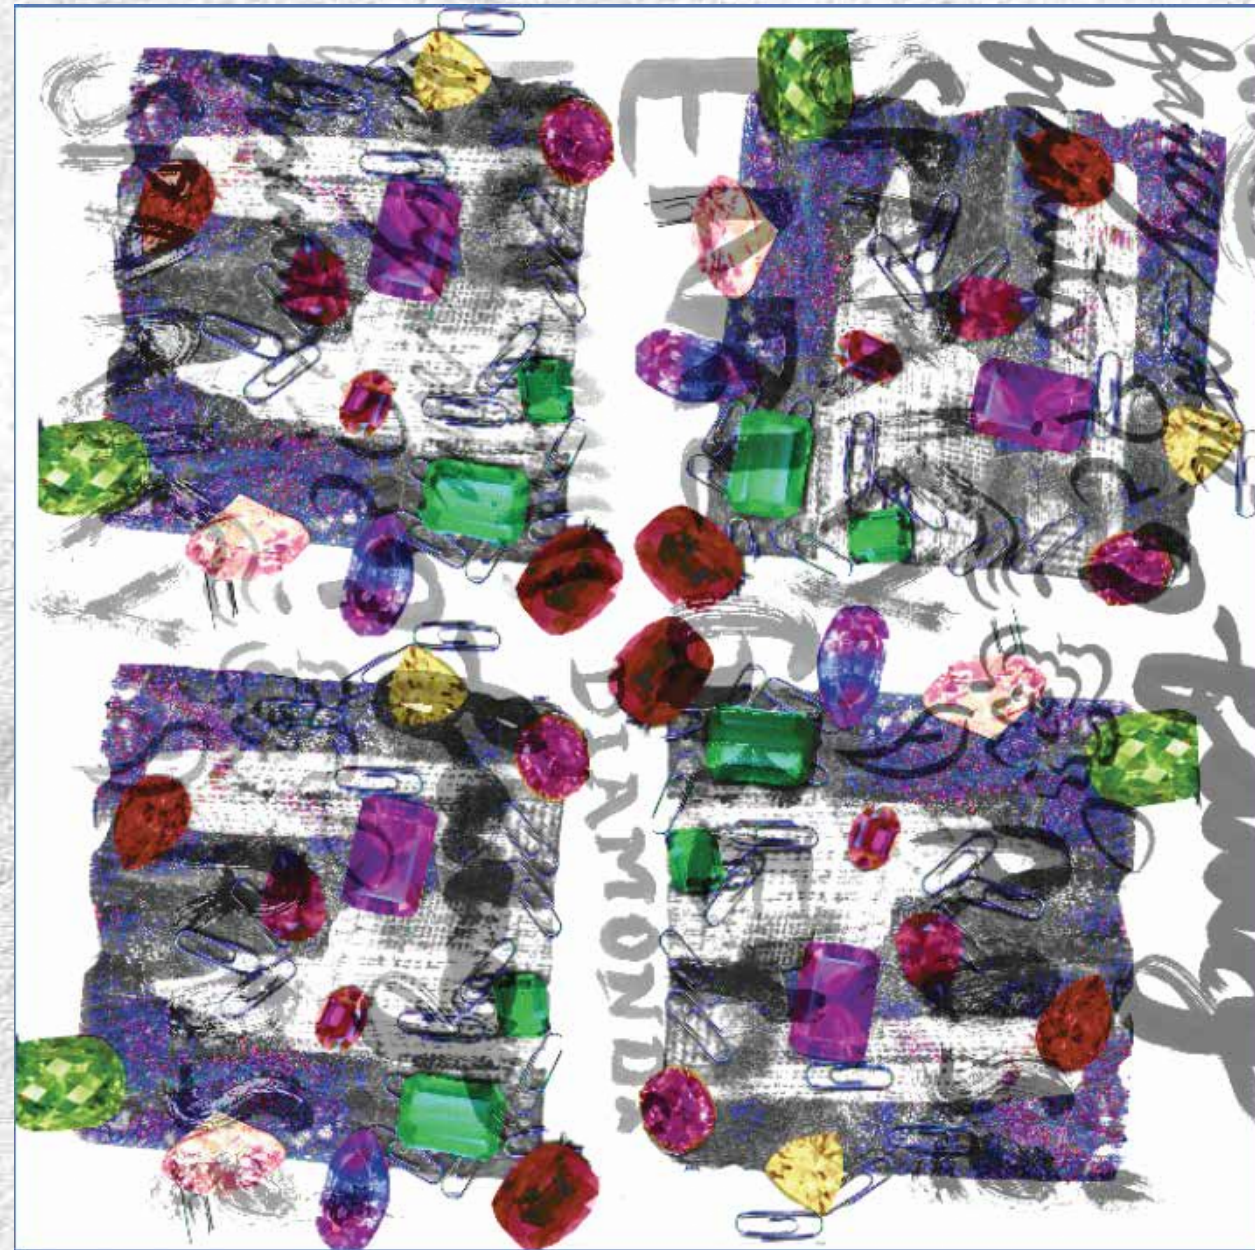

XOXO Gem Bag

Bold and graphic, this structured handbag pairs pop-color embellishments with graffiti-inspired motifs, creating a striking balance between edge and polish.

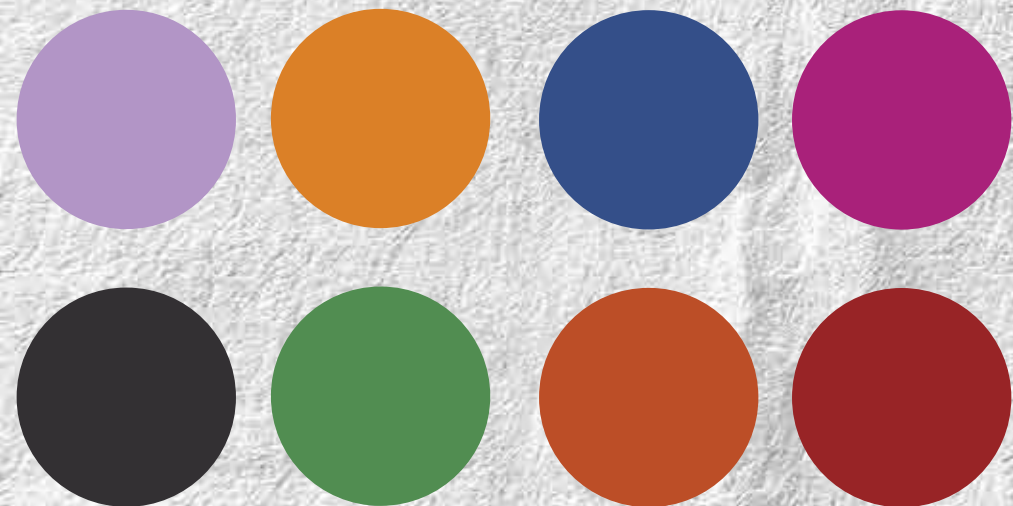

Purple Graffiti Tote

Dynamic and expressive, this oversized tote blends abstract prints with street-style markings, delivering a statement piece that feels both effortless and energetic.

White Mixed-Print Purse

Clean yet eclectic, this carryall contrasts a crisp white base with scattered, colorful graphics, offering a fresh take on maximalist design.

Red Lace-Up Bag

Rich in color and detail, this structured silhouette combines vivid prints with corset-inspired lacing, merging bold femininity with a rebellious twist.