Weekly Prayerful Thoughts

“We close our school year with this prayer”

Teach me to pray in accordance with Your will, just as You did so long ago for Your disciples. I want to confess my many sins before You—please forgive me so that the channels of communication between us can be opened.

I confess my absolute dependence on You because without You I can do nothing.

Please forgive me for sometimes doubting You. Thank you, that I know that You listen to each one of my prayers, even though You do not answer every single one the way I want.

Keep me so close to You that I will never be dissatisfied with Your answers because I know for sure that Your answers to my prayers are always for my best even when they differ vastly from what I have asked You.

Help me to wait for Your answers and teach me to get to know You better in the waiting times. Keep me from praying selfish prayers and help me not only to ask You for things but also willing to act as You direct.

I know that You are all-wise and absolutely righteous—forgive me for sometimes questioning Your wisdom because You do not always give me what I ask. Thank you for the assurance that You always know best and Your answers to my prayers are the best answers for me. AMEN.
