District Headlines

19th District Highlights

Star in The East Meeting 2/4/25. Wor. Donald Valente received his 50-year service medal and once again sat in the east of his lodge. Chills run down your spine as Don looks up and says "Dad, I made it!". Wor. Peter Ham gives up his past master jewel to Don. This jewel was once worn by Donald father. Mount Hope lodge reclaims the Douglas traveling gavel on their last meeting in New Bedford. What a night!

Lodge of Instruction January 23rd, 2025
Thursday January 23rd, 2025

Wor. Michael Jazabek gave on of his most popular talks on how Freemasonry and Star Wars have some much in common entitled: Star Wars the Force & Masonry. Dinner was a delicious lasagna, salad and garlic bread. There was also a large showing of one Entered Apprentices, two Fellowcrafts and two Master Masons that went through instruction prior to the speakers talk.
Don't miss the next Lodge of Instruction in February!

19th District Highlights

Noquchoke Lodge Meeting 2/8/25 Bro. Vento presided over the east as Wor. Dino Valente received his 50-year service medal. This medal was presented by RW Santos and placed in his pocket by his brother Donald.

A Note from the District Deputy Grand Master's

East

Brethren,
Always remember we are someone's impression of freemasonry. Throughout our masonic ritual we are taught the concept of brotherly love. We are taught to practice outside the lodge the values taught within. Freemasonry unites men of every country, sect, and opinion. The idea of giving our brothers respect for their ideas even when we don't agree with them. When we restrain ourselves from making a negative comment or from interrupting because we feel we 'know better' than another person, we exhibit Temperance, Fortitude, & Prudence. Whether we agree or disagree with those within or outside our fraternity from time to time, the principles of Freemasonry teach us to be tolerant of other beliefs or ideas. To form a true friendship with those who might otherwise remain at a distance.
The light of Freemasonry shines brightest when we walk together in harmony. Practice outside the lodge the values taught within. Be just and upright to yourself and those around you. Be an active and engaging member in your lodge. Together we make a difference for the future of our craft. We are Freemasonry in action.
Fraternally,

RW Joshua David Bumpus

West

My Brothers,
Fraternal greetings!! As I write to you today, I come to realize we are standing on the precipice of a historic milestone—the 250th anniversary of the founding of United States of America. This occasion is not only a celebration of our nation's legacy but it is also an opportunity for us, as Masons, to reflect upon our deeply integral role in shaping the principles of liberty, unity, and brotherhood that have been the foundations of our nation.
The Grand Lodge has planned an array of distinguished events to commemorate this historic anniversary, and I encourage all brethren of the 19th Masonic District to participate and engage in these gatherings. Grand Lodge has listed these events on the MassMasons.org calendar page. Please take the time to review them.
The events leading up to the 250th anniversary are once-in-a-lifetime opportunities, and it is our duty as Masons to represent our heritage and celebrate it with the honor and dignity it deserves. Let's take this opportunity to reaffirm our commitment to the principles of Masonry, strengthen our bonds as brethren, and demonstrate to the world the enduring values of Freemasonry.
I encourage each of you to actively participate in these events and to spread the word among our brothers, make it a Lodge event with the goal to attend these events as a Lodge. Let's continue to uphold the traditions of our fraternity and inspire future generations to walk in the light of Freemasonry.

Fraternally,
RW Lawrence S. Santos Jr.

Warantum de Deserendo

In the times that we currently live, modernity and technology have made almost every facet of our daily lives easier and easier each and every year. Men no longer have to go out into the sea “fish” to find a beautiful bride, they can swipe away for hours and pluck one from the lot just like a car dealership. Having friends and colleagues whom you meet on a regular basis and chat, exchange ideas, and have fun with in person is a thing of the past. No longer do you need to go out to the store once a week to fill and restock your cabinets with groceries and sundries. Technology has grown onto the human psyche like a grotesque and oblong tumor. Young men are becoming so sexually perverted by the prevalence of online pornography, women are faced with constant unrealistic images of themselves online, with which they constantly compare themselves to and twist their self picture. Young adults no longer feel the need to explore the world, and why would they when they can find any picture of it online? The social psyche of the next generation is becoming brittle and twisted, they don't know how to socially interact in person anymore, they don't see the need for a face to face encounter with another human. Greed and ultra-materialism is rampant among almost every member of society, where most people will value their common possessions more than their fellow neighbors' life. There are hundreds and hundreds of reasons for these ailments that plague not only our great nation, but now at least these two most recent generations.

Not every man or woman who walks this Earth has to be religious, or follow a specific religious creed, but there is something to say about the just and upright morals that religion places upon you. It destills a hope in you, a fear in you. A hope that you will push and achieve to be the best possible person you can be, whether if that's for your salvation, or to prevent your damnation. Giving you a purpose to wake up every single day and attempt to do good in your society. Bringing you together at a common place of prayer or worship and building a social community and network around you. You grow to love your fellow members and you eventually begin to not only hope for your good fortune in all your actions and reactions with mankind, but also theirs. Living every day to be the best version of yourself, allowing yourself to be given up for the service of something greater. “The only real sadness, the only real failure, the only real tragedy in life, is not to become a saint” Leon Bloy . If a specific religious organization isn't your cup of tea there are many multi-faith based fraternal and sorority organizations that can lay a beautiful set of morals and love for one another upon you.

In the age of the digital plague, organic face to face interactions should be worth more than gold and to an extent they are. But for such a materialistic culture and species they don't seek it! The young generation run from it, as if it's the Justinian plague of 545 AD. This could be a testament to their laziness, their pure love of convenience. Having real interactions, social interactions takes work, time, and effort. These are things the young for some reason think they cant afford to pursue. They feel as if life is swinging all around them, hours becoming minutes, minutes becoming seconds, and seconds to dust. In a digital age where technological advancements of all kinds seem to be made hundreds of times throughout the day, time has seemed to almost speed up. An overextending anxiety of sorts seems to entrap their minds forcing them to feel that they need to move faster, acquire ways to put less effort into the finer, more romantic facets of life. Hence online interactions over organic bodily interactions. The ease of just logging on with the click of a button and sourcing almost every single piece of information known to man, or interacting with almost every person known to man has created a sickening reliance on technology. Having created a weak minded generation, sucking on the tit of the latest heir to the technological developers throne, the Fuhrer of silicon valley is what they should be called.

Online dating and pornography has distorted and twisted the minds of young men and women for some time now. 37% of US adults have used a dating app in their lifetime and that number seems to be climbing. The prevalence of this is sickening, young men and women can senselessly scroll and swipe all day long with no repercussions for their actions. While on the other end a person is being destroyed because their attractiveness is being judged by hundreds of people, with their need for validation being increased by the second. With no organic initial interaction, persons are starting their romantic journey over a digital text chat, how blatantly unromantic! With the onslaught of this technology what would make your spouse you meet through one of these apps not just log back on at the first sign of disagreement? Dating apps and all social media have destroyed the concept of fidelity in relationships. Men and women who turn and run on their partner or show infidelity are glorified by the public. The populace praises infidelity and promotes it saying “ it's just part of your journey”.

The prevalence of online pornography has taken hold of the minds of the young. Attaching to their brains like a leach in a shallow pond. Sucking the thought, desire, fidelity, and piety out of every single one of them. Not only is it inherently sinful, but it's just plain disgusting. Young men will pay exorbitant amounts of money to subscribe to a woman's account, and proceed to pleasure themselves for months on end. Succumbing to the deadly sin of lust. Young men must realize that lust is the strongest of the seven deadliest sins for men, and we must escape it.

Humanity's addiction to the material world has grown too far, we have lost our love for our fellow man and begun to love the technological and material leviathan more than God himself. We cast and strike down the rest of mankind each and everyday just for our own monetary advancement or satisfaction. This must all come to its end, for if the world and all of the human race are not to dig there way out of this cavern we have buried ourselves in we are eternally doomed, not only our bodies, but every single soul that constitutes all of humanity.

Learn to love one another, learn to love the Lord your God with all your heart, read, study, pray, and rejoice in the ancient. Reject this modernity of the self, reject what is destroying you. But we cannot do it alone, we must be in this fight together. "If you do not change direction, you may end up where you are heading." — Lao Tzu

Bro. Harcourt was invited to visit Washington Lodge #3 to witness some Rhode Island ritual for an Entered Apprentice degree by Wor. Bro. Butts. Unfortunately, Wor. Bro. Butts came down with the Norovirus and was unable to attend the degree. He decided to invite the entire District to come along. He entitled it "The Road to Rhode Island trip" after the famous Family Guy episode. The District Deputy of the East Bay District RW Mazen Alsabe was in attendance for the degree. The master's work was performed by Wor. Bro. Cory Jacques & Bro. Steve Wojcik (the current Junior Warden). History of the lodge was given by Bro. Benevides of St. Albans Lodge #6. This lodge building is the second oldest lodge in the United States and the oldest in New England. There were some noticeable differences in ritual such as a candidate was referred to as "poor & blind", when tiling the door there were only "three knocks followed by one side & one on the other" then the door opens, and a noticeable use of props in the Right of Destitution. Afterword, we all broke bread together for a late lunch at Hometown Taven. The food was excellent. Hopefully brothers of Washington Lodge #3 come to visit the 19th District in return. You can travel Washington Lodge #3 as well they meet the second Tuesday of each month 7:00pm 39 Baker St. Warren RI, 02885.

16 brothers were in attendance from the 19th District:
