What's been on my heart?

Allow me to just make a prayer for us today, it is what's on my heart.

Heavenly Father,

We thank you for your mercy and goodness. We thank you because we are alive right now, with breath in our lungs; how could we not praise you? Lord, I pray that you help us forgive those who have transgressed against us! Help us to be humble enough to say sorry to those who we might have offended as well. Holy Spirit, give us more of you fruit! More love for those around us; joy, peace, self-control. Give us a passion for the lost souls. Put them in our path so that we can share the Good News about Christ Jesus who is our Lord and Savior. We ask for forgiveness if we have been selfish this week, Lord. Help us to focus more on the needs of others. Help us to come back to the heart of worship you want us to have. May this life not be about us and our feelings- but about you and what you did on that cross. We believe you are coming soon again, Jesus and we do not want to be asleep when you arrive. Help us so that we can be wise enough to have extra oil for our lamps to keep burning. Lord, we are tired of superficiality and toxicity. We are tired of sickness of all kinds; physical, mental, and spiritual. Your name breaks those chains in our lives and we are free. We are free! We have faith!

In Jesus' name, Amen.

Please listen to this song and take a moment to worship and spend time with Jesus.
