

WELCOME TO OUR Home Design Newsletter

we're so glad you're here!

Photo by Tony Sebastian on Unsplash

Color and Pattern

We've been talking in the office lately about how much we love color and pattern and what an impact it makes in design projects. We've found a lot of clients are initially hesitant to pull the trigger on a bold color or pattern - and we get it! High quality fabric for upholstery or windows is an investment. What you gain when you decide to make that choice and investment though is unparalleled quality of texture, color, and design. Adding a piece of furniture, window treatments, or even curated throw pillows in beautiful fabrics makes a room look layered, luxe, and special. It shows that there was thought put into the choices and adds an element of artistry. Color and pattern make a room interesting, eye-catching, and unique. This might feel overwhelming to you, but that's why we're here! With experience and familiarity with different fabric options we can help guide you to choose a signature fabric that you will love having in your home for years to come. And pattern mixing...gahhh...but that's a topic for another newsletter. For now, consider being brave and taking the leap with what might feel like a bold pattern choice!

Product of the Month

We love the textiles from this brand and they have a selection of gorgeous ready-made pillows. This suzani pillow has a few different patterns to choose from. They're all gorgeous but we're especially drawn to this magenta and blue colorway.

What have we been up to?

We have several projects going on right now in a variety of stages. We just wrapped up a basement renovation that we LOVE (photos coming soon), we have a kitchen/dining room/living room project in a turn of the century home that has started demo, a few projects in the middle stages, and a few in the beginning stages. We also hosted an open house at our office last week and got to share where we work and all of the updates we've been making to the space!

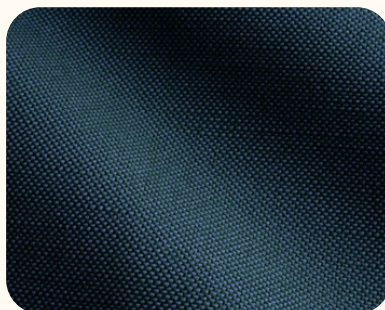

Fabric patterns we're loving

Maria Cobalto
Kravet

We just reupholstered a chair in our office (above) in this stunning fabric. It's even more vibrant in person!

Ishi Mallard
Perennials

This fabric has texture and incredible depth of color. It's beautiful and high performance - perfection!

Jongli Cornflower
Namay Samay

We haven't had a chance to use this stunning linen fabric with a floral stripe yet, but we're dying to!

Quotable Moment This Month

"Color! What a deep and mysterious language, the language of dreams."
— Paul Gauguin

June Design Tip

While we're obviously big fans of pattern and color around here, there are some things to consider to make sure you wind up with choices you'll love forever.

- Always get fabric swatches. Using the Kravet Maria fabric above as an example, you can see the swatch image from online looks much more muted than the photo of the wingback chair in our office that we just had reupholstered in the fabric. You have to see a fabric in person to be able to understand the scale, texture, and color accurately. Don't ever buy a large amount of a fabric without seeing and feeling it in person first.
- Go with your gut. It can be easy to overthink fabric choices. Look for inspiration and just start collecting what appeals to you. You can do this with a Pinterest board or by saving Instagram posts to a folder. You don't have to know why you like the image, just save it. After awhile you'll likely see a common theme emerge. And if you see a pattern or fabric and you're immediately drawn to it, that's a great sign. There's no right or wrong choice, it's all about what appeals most to you.
- Consider hiring a designer for greater access. Designers are able to order fabric swatches and yardage that you often can't access as a consumer. This gives you a truly dizzying amount of options, but that's also where working with a designer can help you define your style and narrow down options. We offer consultation services and not just full service design so if you want help picking a signature fabric to bring a room design together, we can work with you on just that!

We're so glad you're here! As always, reach out with any design questions or inquiries at erin@ewpinteriors.com. We always offer an initial free phone consultation if you have any projects you'd like to explore. We have availability for late summer 2025 clients to start either full service projects or design consultations and would love to talk to you !

xo , Erin