Ramadan 2020,
A blessed month that offered plenty.
For the Muslim community, a chance to reflect.
An unprecedented time that none would expect.
What was turning into a downhill slope,
Actually, became a beacon of hope.
As living rooms turned into a place of prayer,
The knowledge of closed mosques brought less despair
For some a chance to share a meal with the family
For others, an opportunity to start to think positively.
As new hobbies formed
And virtual meetings became the norm,
We understood that, regardless of colour, we belong to one race
Each person an equal piece forming the Earth's face.
