“Where there's hope, there's life. It fills us with fresh courage and makes us strong again.” Anne Frank

All throughout the Bible we see how God turns terrible things for good, even when things do not look good at all. In the case of Jacob being separated from his beloved son Joseph, the natural man could not see any good coming from such a painful experience. However, our heavenly father does not see as man sees. Joseph needed to be separated from his father so that God could prepare him for his ministry and in turn, to save not only his father's family, but a multitude of people.

The situation in Haiti has everyone on edge...apart from political unrest, gang violence and now natural disasters. It's easy to lose hope. But, throughout Scripture I also see time after time how God turns terrible things for good, even when things do not look good at all. I am praying for God's mercy. I know as a people, we have done wickedly and turned our backs away from our creator.

We have brought misery upon ourselves because of our stiff necked behavior against our God. Our prayer is that the Haitian people everywhere will repent and turn to God in humility. God promise that...

(2 Chronicles 7:13-14) “When I shut up the heavens so that there is no rain, or command locusts to devour the land or send a plague among my people, if my people who are called by my name humble themselves, and pray and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways, then I will hear from heaven and will forgive their sin and heal their land.”

I have been very anxious to enter Haiti and see the progress of our work in Morne Pele. I also have been preparing to run a vacation Bible camp for the children. However, the latest news of Haiti is most discouraging with flooding and earthquakes in various parts of the island. Even work at Morne Pele is at a standstill. My natural man cannot understand these continuous catastrophes.

“It is during our darkest moments that we must focus to see the light.” Aristotle

However I trust that God is not finish with the people of Haiti. I believe revival is going to break forth in various parts of the land. God has a remnant who are faithfully praying. We believe in God’s promise that He will turn His face towards us with mercy and grace. Haiti will be known as a place where people worship the Lord.

“Come, let us bow down in worship, let us kneel before the LORD our Maker; for he is our God and we are the people of his pasture, the flock under his care.” Psalms 95:6-7

We request your continued prayers and financial support as we move forward to supply our school with furnitures, i.e. student-desks, blackboards, kindergarden carpets, easles... See the pictures. We also have a list below. Thank you for your support. May God in His tender mercies continue to bless you!

Consider it all joy, my brethren, when you encounter various trials, knowing that the testing of your faith produces endurance. And let endurance have its perfect result, so that you may be perfect and complete, lacking in nothing. James 1:2-4
