Announcement for Sunday, February 1, 2026.

United in Prayer: Up-to-date Requests from our Missionaries

Rev. Roberto Rossi is an ordained minister in the URCNA and US Navy Chaplain out of Virginia Beach, VA

1. Please pray that the Lord would break through hardened hearts so that more sailors would be more willing to receive and turn to God in repentance and faith in Christ.
2. Please pray that the Lord would open doors to new ministry opportunities within my command so that the light and Word of the Gospel will reach more sailors.
3. Please pray that the Lord would give Christian sailors a desire to grow in the wisdom and knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ and to make Christian disciplines a priority in their lives. It is very common for believers in the military to backslide and to embrace the ways and pleasures of the world.
4. Please pray that the Lord would glorify His great name in all branches of the military and that He would raise up leaders of integrity and courage

2. Pray that the handful of regular attenders at our Bible studies so far would progress into the core group of our church plant, and that new people would continue to join.
3. Pray that God would provide us with an adequate public meeting space in a central location for those who have desired to join us but not been able so far.

United in Prayer: Up-to-date Requests from our Missionaries.

Rev. Elijah Anderson is a missionary in Northwest Iowa with Misiones Iowa.

1. Please pray that there might be commitment to church attendance. Because of the political situation, many people I speak with have no interest in church attendance, preferring to stay out of the public eye.
2. Please pray for the chaplaincy work I do, at several businesses in the area. I have received many open doors; pray that God might work in the hearts of those I speak with!
3. Please pray for some upcoming evangelism classes and seminars that I hope to teach- that God would use them to get people involved with and excited about local evangelism.
4. Please pray that God would work in the hearts of the prisoners I speak with, when I give Bible studies at the local jails.
