Women Speak Up to Host Fall Business Showcase Celebrating Women Entrepreneurs in Toronto

TORONTO, ON — September 25, 2026 — Women Speak Up will host its Fall Business Showcase this Saturday, September 26, bringing together women entrepreneurs, local businesses, community members and supporters for a day of connection, discovery and celebration.

The event will take place from 11:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. at 967 College Street in Toronto.

The Fall Business Showcase provides an opportunity for attendees to discover local businesses, explore products and services, connect with entrepreneurs and support women-led businesses in the community.

“When women entrepreneurs have opportunities to connect, share their experiences and support one another, the entire community benefits. The Fall Business Showcase is about creating that space,” said Tanisha Valcin, Licensed Financial Professional. “Bringing people together to discover local businesses, build relationships and celebrate the women making an impact in our communities.”

In addition to welcoming attendees, Women Speak Up is inviting community members interested in supporting the event to volunteer and help create a welcoming experience for participants and vendors.

Businesses interested in participating as vendors are encouraged to contact Women Speak Up to confirm whether space remains available.
