

ABOUT

MARIAH TAYLOR

Mariah Taylor is a Puerto Rican mezzo-soprano who is passionate about sharing music that deeply connects with audiences.

She has performed throughout upstate New York at venues including The Hochstein School, the Rome Art and Community Center, and the Adirondack Bank Center for Utica Comets games. In the summer of 2025, she traveled to southern France where she made her debut in the opera Carmen.

Mariah enjoys exploring a wide range of repertoire while continuing to grow as an artist and bringing classical music to new and diverse audiences.

“Her passion for the arts was evident in everything she did.”
— Collaborating pianist

