

About Us

This is a story about two orphan siblings who were born in Prilep city of Macedonia at the immediate beginning of the 20th century... Their father was taken prisoner at the Battle of Balkans and they lost their mother when they were babies then they immigrated to Turkey with their grandmother who raised them. After coming to first Alaçatı, then Istanbul and Adapazarı, they got Akhisar, Manisa where their uncle lived in no time flat...

In those years, Akhisar was a fledgling city that fresh from the First World War. The people were in unspeakable poverty. They worked their uncle's tavern here but while they were performing their military service in Istanbul for long years on one hand, they developed their profession by working in important restaurants of Istanbul in the evenings and at weekends when they went home. When they returned to Akhisar again, they had a chance to develop further the grilled meatballs that was a similar type of street vendors in Macedonia has done a similar type of street vendors. By frying and chopping the wheat pita bread, they made pillow under the meatballs made from completely made from veal, consisting of just salt and onion and that tastes meat. When it is presented with grilled green peppers and tomatoes heated in a pan with butter heated, it became the creator of flavors that the ones who taste cannot forget Finally they opened a tiny restaurant with chairs made of lemon crates in 1928... In 1934, they moved to their historical restaurants that are still in operation. Over the decades, they announced the reputation of this flavor all over the country as the first and unique grilled meatball restaurant in Akhisar. Indeed, by deviating from the main road Istanbul-Izmir into the center bazaar in Akhisar the customers who want to taste this restaurant everyday more and more.
