- 1:43am----- Tollway records will confirm Im traveling West on the tollway at this time. Im still driving the Mercedes.
- 2:30am----- I call Amy Kitchen on the cell phone. The cell phone I used is not the one mounted, the one I was used an extra cell phone James and Amy had which was left in the car. When I called I wasn't wanting to specifically talk with Amy Kitchen, she just happened to answer the phone. I mentioned that one of the Mercedes tires is losing air, and since Im heading downtown I cant drive this car and Im coming back to pick up the Honda Accord. Amy Kitchen said okay and when I got to the house press the garage door opener in the car, and she'll come out through the garage once she hears it raising.

2:37am----- Me and my girlfriend leaves the Gibbons home in the Honda Accord.

2:38am----- Amy Kitchen calls me one the cell phone I accidentally took from the Mercedes. While previously driving the Mercedes I accidentally put there cell phone in my jacket pocket. At this time Im not even towards the end of the street. She pleads with me to come back and switch cars. Amy said that James still wants to portray that they have company through the evening, and for me to drive James's Corvette till the morning. When Amy called me I could hear James in the background telling her what to tell me. (So at this time I know there both still alive). I turned around and headed back towards James and Amy's house.

2:39am----- Amy Kitchen comes out front of her home through the garage to meet me. I again leave the Honda Accord out front and give Amy the spare key to the Honda. At this time I only visit with Amy Kitchen, and she mentions thanks for taking the Corvette and please bring it back in the morning. I leave in the Corvette and Amy Kitchen goes back into the house. Before heading to Club 7 my girlfriend wants to go back to our apartment because she wants to get some cd's to listen to. I then drive to our apartment.

2:45am----- Me and my girlfriend arrive at our apartment. She goes inside for a while to gather the cd's she wants to listen to. I then place them in the cd changer in the rear hatch-back area. While Im doing this I see my neighbor Stephen Mullins and say hello. Once the cd's are installed the changer me and my girlfriend drive to Club 7.

2:55am----- Me and my girlfriend actually leave our apartment to drive to Club 7.

- 3:20am----- Me and my girlfriend arrive at Club 7. We go inside and look for our friends, so we can meet up with them. We say hello to a few people, but the friends were really looking for have already left and went home or to another friends house. We stay for a little while.
- 3:45am----- Club 7 closes at 4:00am, and we decided to leave so we could beat the crowd. Since my friend Harlan lives close by and usually always has people over we decided to go to his house.
- 4:00am----- Me and my girlfriend arrive at Harlan's house. He has a few people over so we decide to stay and hang out for a little while. During this time I met a guy named Fernando Longoria, who I'd never met before, and he mentioned one of his friends was also having a party close by, so me and my girlfriend agree to go along with some other people.
- Unknown Time----- We left Harlan's house to follow Fernando, but Im not sure what time we left and headed towards Fernando's friends house.
- Unknown Time----- We eventually get to Fernando's friends house and join the party. Me and my girlfriend stay for a little while, but since we knew we were leaving for Arkansas soon we left shortly.
- 6:00am----- Me and my girlfriend leave Fernando's friends house and head home.
- 6:15am----- Tollway records will confirm I enter the tollway from the south plaza to travel north. This is the way I go to get home. On my way home I plan to stop by James and Amy's to pick up my Honda Accord and return the Corvette because I'll be traveling soon to Arkansas in the Honda. Once I get closer to their home I'll call so we can exchange cars.

- 6:28am----- Tollway records will confirm I exit the tollway to go to James and Amy's house to exchange the cars.
- 6:30am----- I call James house using their extra cell phone that I accidentally took that evening. When I called I spoke with Amy, and I mentioned that I'll be there within minutes. (During this conversation I didn't hear James in the background like I did with the previous call at 2:38am.
- 6:35am----- At this time I get to James and Amy's house. Amy Kitchen comes outside through the garage. She gives me back the spare key to the Honda, and I return the Corvette by pulling into the driveway, then she waves me just to pull it into the garage. Again, at this time I only deal with Amy Kitchen. Me and my girlfriend leave in the Honda and Amy Kitchen goes back inside.
- 6:40am----- Me and my girlfriend arrive back home to our apartment. My intention was to get a little sleep before driving to Arkansas soon. Once we got back to the apartment I dont remember to much. All I really remember was walking in the front door.
- 9:30am----- I woke up with a huge knot on the back of my head. My girlfriend mentioned I must have fell or bumped it while I was sleeping. Theres no way this would have ocured because I would have remembered. Plus, the knot on the back of my head was to big for a simple fall or bump while sleeping. Me and my girlfriend gather our things for the trip to Arkansas and get ready. Such as shower and get dressed, and I may have had a cup of coffee or two.
