

Story of John Sullivan and the "li'l Red Express" My husband John Sullivan a Chicago Police Officer for 28yrs. After John retired he would travel to Tucson, AZ to visit his father Jack Sullivan. Jack Sullivan also a retired Chicago Police Officer was killed in a car crash. He was 86 yrs old. John stayed in Tucson to attend court. A drug induced twenty year odyssey was charged with Jack's death. John loved muscle cars. John spent his time looking at car ads & waiting for court dates. John answered an ad for a 1978 Dodge Li'l Red Express. The truck belonged to an 87 yr old in poor health. As John explained, "he had at least ten sheds filled with cars in the middle of the desert. Hidden in one shed was the express. The owner couldn't remember how long he stored it "He said maybe ten years. John called me, out of breath, excited and over the moon! He returned the next day and purchased the truck. I never saw him so happy. Early morning, he was washing the truck shining it up. He had it serviced by many service shops. I'm so happy he had time to enjoy the truck. John passed away in Tucson of a heart attach in 2018. I hope this truck makes you as happy as it did John. Jan Stanhowuz (Sullivan) Chicago, Illinois I purchased it from Mrs. Sullivan in April 2020. Dean Forleo, Louisville, KY
