Interested in being a Sacristan?

We're transitioning to high school aged sacristans. Duties include setting up for mass and ensuring all mass vessels and books are serviced after mass. If interested, please contact Deacon Steve.

St. Joseph's Table

For the month of January the request is for Baked Beans. Winter is long and cold for all of us but especially for those who hunger. We are blessed, be a blessing for someone else. Thank you and God Bless you!

Scripture Reflection

On this final day of the Christmas season we celebrate the feast of the Baptism of the Lord. We hear in dramatic fashion of Jesus rising from the waters of the River Jordan, the heavens opening before him, the Holy Spirit descending like a dove, and a voice from the heavens proclaiming, "This is my beloved Son, with whom I am well pleased." Though not as visible, we too have risen from the waters of baptism and received the Holy Spirit. As beloved children of God, we pray that God is also well pleased with us.

What I would like you to PRAY ABOUT:

God's words in Matthew's account of Jesus' Baptism can also be said about each one of us. "This is my beloved Son, with whom I am well pleased." But LIVING as God's beloved is not always easy. We are all too quick to speak critically and act negatively about ourselves and others. We listen to voices that are NOT God's whispering "You are not enough." "You are not smart enough." "You are not old enough." "You are too old." When we hear these voices of the evil one, may we be quick to silence them and instead listen to God's voice, which tells us we are loved totally and unconditionally. May our prayer ask God's help in making this possible.

Thoughts from Deacon Bill:

When they were young, our children listened to a musical group called The Grateful Dead. This group sang a song that included the verse, "What a long, strange trip it's been." Trust me, I can relate. It was about fifteen years ago when thoughts of the Permanent Diaconate began entering my mind. After five years formation, I was ordained and assigned to St. Nicholas Church, where I had been a member for over thirty years. After a relatively short time, I was "asked" to become the parish life coordinator of St. Andrew Parish. I accepted a six-year assignment that turned into seven. When I left there, I asked to be assigned to a parish as a deacon, and I ended up right here. I told this story because I want you to realize that God often writes straight with crooked lines. My life is a living example of this, and I'll bet yours is too. Think about the hands of God and how those hands led you to where you are today. We have much to be thankful for - but sadly, we rarely offer thanks. Let's change that right now. We might have been on a long, strange trip - but it's what made us what and who we are. Thanks, God.

Now You Know.... From the PLC

We can sum up the Feast of the Baptism of the Lord that we celebrate today with two words: manifestation and mission. Like the Feast of the Epiphany last Sunday, the Baptism of the Lord is a manifestation of Jesus. After Jesus is baptized we hear God the Father say, "This is my beloved Son, with whom I am well pleased." This voice from Heaven is directed at each of us. God announces that the servant that Isaiah speaks about in the 1st reading, the chosen one with whom God is well pleased, is the Jesus who will be manifested to the whole world. The Holy Spirit anoints Jesus as the Christ, the Messiah, sent to bring the Good News of salvation. Jesus, the suffering servant, comes into our world, becomes one of us, and transforms us from within. The ongoing Good News, that God is with us, then becomes the mission of Jesus, the mission of the Church, and our mission. Like the Baptism of Jesus, our Baptism involves manifestation and mission. When we are baptized we share in the Spirit of the Lord. God is well pleased with us and we begin to make our lives more Christ-like. We are called to show that God is present in our hearts and lives and to proclaim the Good News of the Gospel. We need a vigorous faith to engage a culture that is so different from a Christian culture. We must realize the difference between a life shaped by Gospel values and a life guided by the changing values of our culture. We are called to deepen our faith so we can manifest Jesus and carry out His mission in our society. Now you know!

Thank you!

Your parish leadership team - Deacon Steve, Fr. Mark, and Deacon Bill - thank you for the Christmas wishes and smiles, and the prayers the parish family offered for us this Christmas Season. We also want to thank everyone for the cards and gifts you shared with us. We are so very grateful to acknowledge our parish family and to thank you for welcoming us into it. This is the season of love - and we hope you feel our love as much as we felt yours. Have a wonderful New Year. May the tears of 2025 water the garden of life in 2026!
