Top stories of the week

Marine fuels supplier Monjasa has seen almost 50% growth in bunker volumes in Southeast Asia so far this year, the company said Monday. The company has gained 22% in customer numbers and close to 50% in volumes in the region so far this year, compared with the same period of 2019, Monjasa said in a LinkedIn post. "Besides pricing, full visibility on sourcing and supply has a growing importance to our partners and we are pleased to see that our efforts are appreciated. "We work across niche markets like Vietnam, Thailand and South Korea, but currently, the port of Singapore is where we see the most significant rise on the demand-side." Monjasa supplied a total of 517,424 mt of bunkers in Southeast Asia last year. (Ship& Bunker, 28 September, 2020)

Bunkerworks Marine Services, a new marine fuels trading firm set up in India earlier this year, has added a barge to its operation, the company said Sunday The double-hulled barge can deliver 320 m3 of marine fuels, and is expected to be deployed at the port of Kakinada on the east coast of India, the company source said. Bunkerworks commenced operations trading marine fuels and lubricants at ports throughout India earlier this year. Its backers are Mohin Jassal, Arjun Sundar and Raj Kiran Wuddi.
