

Marketing and Graphic Design Intern

Support learning through the arts!

Details

8-week paid internship between
May 11th, 2020 and August 21st, 2020
35 hours/week, M - F, 9 AM - 5 PM

Discover nonprofit administration and a career in marketing and design by working with the largest arts-in-education organization in the region!

Apply

Send your resume and cover letter to:
chloe@yahouston.org
or, Chloe Cook
Young Audiences, Inc. of Houston
4550 Post Oak Place Dr. Suite 230
Houston, TX 77027

DEADLINE: April 10th, 2020

Made Possible By
ExxonMobil Community
Summer Jobs
Program

Position Description

Intern will support the Development and Communications Manager in creating digital and printed marketing materials for upcoming programs and events. The intern will get first-hand experience in nonprofit administration, brand management, communications, marketing, program management and program implementation.

Intern will support:

- creation of an optimized YAH program/curriculum guide
- social media design and content
- creation of development materials
- fundraising and donor solicitation
- artist promotion via print and online materials

Requirements

An ideal candidate has:

- experience in graphic design and creation of print materials
- interest in the arts' role in K-12 education,
- strong verbal communication and writing skills,
- experience with email marketing and social media platforms

Applicant must be a currently enrolled, full-time undergraduate student returning to college as a sophomore, junior, or senior for the fall semester after the internship.

About Young Audiences of Houston

Young Audiences of Houston provides over 2,600 programs led by professional teaching artists in all arts disciplines. In partnership with schools, hospitals, community centers, public parks, libraries, and juvenile detention centers, we impact over 221,000 children each year through creative learning.