Quick User Guide

Press either the Speak button or any other button you see (such as Mom) to explore the default communication cards and dive into the world of TippyTalk Mobile.

Now, it's time to explore TippyTalk's main features. Let's begin with sending a message to your child!

Take your phone and open TippyTalk. On the home screen, click on your child's picture or the circle with their name to open the chat where you can exchange messages.

Here, you can type the message to send to your child. When you're ready – just click the Send button, and your message will be on its way.

Your child will receive the message on their iPad. On the home screen, a red circle will appear at the top of the picture of the sender. This indicates a message has come in.

TippyTalker should click on the sender's icon to open the message.

Every text message will be read aloud once opened.

After this, TippyTalker can respond using the orange button with the arrow.

Here are the default communication cards of TippyTalk Mobile.

To build a message, TippyTalker has to choose two cards sequentially: the beginning and the end of the phrase. After this, an orange Send button will appear – once clicked, the message will be sent.

You will know that you received a message from your child by the red circle near their picture on your home page of the app.

You can chat with your child any time you want. All you need is an internet connection.

You can send your child text messages, photo and video messages, as well as audio messages. Choose the type that is best for communication with your child.

Now you can also add Community Members.

A TippyTalker's community is made up of verbal users who support the TippyTalker, including: 1) An Admin 2) Managers 3) Members

Start by clicking into the TippyTalker's chat to manage their profile settings.
