SPEAKER BIO

Renita brings over 10 years of extensive experience in Nonprofit Leadership, Community Engagement, Image Consulting (AICI trained), and Content Development to Gallantri Industries. She successfully founded The Arts of Humanity 501c3 and its subsidiary, AofH Productions, where she produced “The FAHF Awards” earning her IMDb credit as Director and Producer. Renita grew up the daughter of a Vietnam Veteran, experiencing first-hand the devastating effects of PTSD and life-altering mental health issues in veterans, which inspired Renita to begin her altruistic career with veteran advocacy and humanitarian empowerment. Renita is a member of Pi Alpha Alpha, a published author with news networks including CBS News, and is a Com-Ed Neighborhood Hero Award Recipient. Renita is currently developing Joynt Parenting, an online platform with curated and original content for parents and guardians that work in or near the Cannabis, Hemp, and Psychedelics industries.
