Virginia Police Benevolent Association Endorses Lisa Ownby for the Stonehouse seat of James City County Board of Supervisors

(October 3rd) - The Colonial Chapter of the Virginia Police Benevolent Association is proud to announce the endorsement of Lisa Ownby for the Stonehouse seat of the James City County Board of Supervisors.

On August 22, Ms. Ownby attended the Police Benevolent Association screening and endorsement process and met with representatives from local law enforcement agencies to discuss issues important to the law enforcement profession in James City County.

Colonial Chapter President Ben Woodhouse said "Lisa Ownby has demonstrated to law enforcement that we share common goals of professionalism, improving the working environment and increasing public safety. We look forward to working with Lisa and we urge voters to consider supporting her by voting on November 7."

"I am humbled and thankful for the endorsement from the Colonial Chapter of the Police Benevolent Association. Now that I have earned the support of law enforcement, I look forward to working hard for the citizens of James City County. I plan to engage the law enforcement community to obtain the perspective from the men and women who are on the front line of public safety and seek their insight and assistance in continuing to improve our community" Lisa Ownby, candidate for James City County Board of Supervisors.

The Virginia Police Benevolent Association is a division of the Southern States Police Benevolent Association, Inc., a not-for-profit professional organization dedicated to improving the law enforcement profession. PBA members are full-time or retired employees of the various federal, state, county and municipal law enforcement and correctional agencies in Virginia. This professional association, funded by membership dues, provides legal, legislative, disciplinary and other representation to member officers as well as an accidental death benefit to members' beneficiaries. The PBA prohibits members from engaging in or condoning any strike by law enforcement officers, electing instead to represent members through aggressive political action.
