

DAN PIASSICK

Bill Sheahan

WILLIAM SHEAHAN DESIGNS, SNIDER PLAZA ANTIQUES

BILL SHEAHAN IS CONSTANTLY SHOPPING FOR JEWELRY—NOT A BAD GIG. But not just any jewelry. He is looking to procure precious estate pieces—antique jewelry, older diamonds, and unique settings for clients who want special jewelry that can't be found just anywhere. Sheahan's fine jewelry collection is nestled between antique dealers at Snider Plaza Antiques. Although Sheahan manages the entire store, he heavily relies on the dealers who have decades of experience in the antique business. While they arrange and rearrange antique vignettes and answer customers' questions about period and value, he is busy caring for exquisite jewelry mountings, settings, and diamonds.

214.742.6403
@williamsheahandesigns
myhpjeweler.com

Why would anyone want an older piece of jewelry? Sheahan loves that question. "Ongoing value," he says. "The pieces are typically in incredible condition with hand detailing you don't see anymore. These are not reproduction pieces that look vintage; they are genuine." For those wanting something brand-new that sparkles, Sheahan also offers a wide array of new jewelry. He is also an official agent of Locman Italy watches and is currently No. 1 in U.S. retail sales for these exquisite timepieces. While perusing jewelry and watches, be sure to browse the shop's collection of high-end gifts, such as watch winders, jewelry travel pouches, and antique accents you won't find anywhere else in Dallas.