Bluegrass Supply Chain Celebrates 20th Anniversary

BOWLING GREEN, KY – Bluegrass Supply Chain is proud to announce 20 years of success on September 3, 2022. Setting out to provide best-in-class services at a reasonable price, we have worked every day to make Bluegrass and our customers better. Over the years we have evolved from value-added warehousing, to dedicated transportation, to managing complex supply chains for multi-national companies.

“Making life better while serving a greater purpose is our mission statement,” says John Higgins, founder, and CEO of Bluegrass Supply Chain. “We believe by investing in our people and developing their knowledge, skills, and abilities they will in turn help to make our customers successful. The spark from our mission ignited the core values we embody and the vision we pursue today. We form our decision making on three principles: growth in our people, developing successful customers, and making an impact in our communities.”

Today, Bluegrass employs over 700 team members, operates a dedicated fleet of 110 tractors, and resides in over 3.6 million square feet of warehouse space across thirty-four locations in a six-state region. Our customers count on us to be a strategic partner who understands their needs and provides value-added solutions to the most complex supply chain challenges.

Looking ahead, Bluegrass Supply Chain remains focused on growth and innovation. With a strong commitment to meeting the evolving needs of clients and adapting to changing market conditions, the company is well positioned for continued success in the years to come.
