Building Together

250th for the Nation, year 1 for us

To think that 250 years ago, our nation was founded on principles of independence, freedom, and dissolution of a tyrannical government. And on such a momentous year of our country we had the privilege of laying the cornerstone to a foundation of our very own community driven mindset. ARPG isn't just another place to find a game table, to find new friends, and to go to events. Rather, at its heart, ARPG strives to reinforce and build up the core fundamentals and raise the bar for what it means to be a part of the beautiful TTRPG space. We strive to provide an area where people not only grow themselves, but they can grow their love for their games. Just as we have preserved the glory and beauty of our nation for 250 years, ARPG puts the history of TTRPGs first, aiming not only to grow, but care for what was. We hope you decide to join us on this journey to create something bigger than us all. So roll in, get creative, and have fun!

President's Message

My name is Mandy Sakora, though some of you may know me as Sparkles_Mandy! A little bit about me and my experiences in the world of TTRPGs and specifically DND began about 5 years ago when a group of us started getting together every Sunday and playing for a couple hours while streaming it for the world to watch the chaos! It sparked a lot of love for the idea behind TTRPGs and is now part of why I can proudly say that I am developing my own TTRPG! I love taking the time to learn both new and old mechanics of DND, from all editions, even including ones that may not be my favorites. So when I wanted to share a love for what could be in the world of TTRPGs, I started this very guild in the hopes of amplifying that dream, of giving back to a game that gave me so much laughter, joy, and hell, even tears. I saw my friends grow and change, develop and find courage, all through the roll of a die, and that's why I took my passion for craft, TTRPGs, and the people I care about, and brought it to the world, in not only my streaming, but now in ARPG. So I hope you all enjoy your stay, and I welcome you all to the guild!
