

No matter how open-minded, socially conscious, anti-racist I think I am, I still have old, learned hidden biases that I need to examine.

It is my responsibility to check myself daily for my stereotypes, prejudice and, ultimately, discrimination.