①

Techqueria: Latinx in Tech hosts their Annual Latinx Heritage Month (LHM) Summit 2022
②

Techqueria continues its mission to creating accessible resources for Latinx and allies alike by hosting their LHM Summit 2022 for free virtually from Oct 5, 2022 to Oct. 6, 2022
③

Oct. 5, 2022 – Oct. 6, 2022 - Techqueria continues to expand their existing network of 18,000+ members and allies on its mission to empower Latinx professionals who are actively in Tech roles or are looking to break into tech by hosting their Latinx Heritage Month Summit 2022 completely virtual and at no cost! Yes, FREE!

Latinx Heritage Month Summit 2022 is intended to connect individuals with companies across several sectors of the tech industry which includes technical and non-technical roles. There will be live Q&As, in-session chat options, polls, resume review sessions and cafecitos. Cafecitos is their way of describing a one-on-one session.

If you are recruiting, looking for work, open to work or simply want to meet more members of the community, this is the opportunity. Multiple sessions will be hosted and you have the opportunity to guide yourself by creating your own schedule. Join the movement and learn from first generation professionals like Latinas, Maribel Sierra and Nanci Gonzalez who are Senior User Experience Researchers at Tendo.

To register, click HERE or go to our website Techqueria.org. If you can't make the summit, sign up regardless to obtain the extra content and recordings that will be made available once the event is over.

Techqueria is a 501(c)(3) non-profit that serves the largest global community of Latinx in Tech in the US. Incorporated on March 1st, 2019 – Techqueria's mission is to empower Latinx professionals by providing resources and support to further careers and create leaders in the tech industry.
