

Apathy

Watch the rain falling down outside
I know one thing's for sure
I'm done apologizing
For things I'm not sorry for
And I've done everything
But you can't force the waves to the shore
So Fuck You for what you did to me
I don't love you anymore

The people you love are gonna change
That's just inevitable
Don't listen when they say they'll stay the same
Cuz that's just impossible
And I don't care about your problems
They're all inconsequential
Don't care about anything
It's all just supplemental

Twist the poison knife a little deeper into me
I feel no pain, overcome with joy at another false victory
Living life an empty shell with my best friend, Apathy
Oh dear God, what has become of me?
Oh dear God, what has become of me?

I should make my getaway
while I have the chance
Not sit and watch the world burn down
In slow motion again
Cuz losing lovers is one thing
But it's another to lose a friend
I don't wanna try anymore
I always get fucked in the end
