

This is the Word of ADONAI to His people Israel, as He gave it to me, Markita Brooks, from 1 Sivan 5781 to 9 Sivan 5781, corresponding with May 12th, 2021 to May 20th, 2021. At His command, I recorded it in this document on 10 Sivan 5781, that is May 21st, 2021.

Hear the Word of ADONAI. “Today, I declare to you that I have made a covenant with you, and My covenant will soon be fulfilled. I am not referring to the covenant I made with your fathers. I have made a covenant with you. I have spoken to you out of this fiery trial. I am ADONAI your God. Have no other gods before Me—not the gods your ancestors served, not the gods in the nations to which I have sent you, not the gods of the people in your midst now. I, ADONAI, am a jealous God. In this season, I draw you to Myself. This Shabbat shall be especially holy for you. Remember My great deliverance and honor My Shabbat, always.

“I am sending My servant to tell you all that is on My heart, because you have not drawn near to Me, though through your fiery trial I desired to draw you near to Me. Oh, that your hearts would be inclined to fear Me and keep all My mitzvot that I may bless you and your generations. Be careful to do all that I have commanded you, deviate neither to the left nor to the right, and you will see My salvation.

“Where there has been destruction, I will build you up, but this will not be just a restoration of buildings and streets on which to dwell. I will rebuild you spiritually, in your relationship with Me. Your complete deliverance is at hand. All who have sought to destroy you will be scattered from among you. I will repopulate your cities, ALL of the cities I have given you. You will live securely where I have planted you, and no one will make you afraid. Even now I call to you scattered among the nations. I call you home to Tziyon. Shake the dust off the nations from you, and return to Me as I am returning for you. Those who have caused you destruction, I Myself will pursue unto destruction. Those who make peace with you, I will bless with you, as I Myself dwell among you. I will again choose Yhudah and set apart Yerushalayim.

“Though fire raged within you, I will comfort you. Though the evil one would accuse you, I make atonement for you. I Myself will remove your guilt and clothe you in My righteousness, for there is no righteousness apart from Me. You are My sign to the world that I am coming! I will call to mind the Torah I gave to Moshe as a sign of the covenant between Me and you, and I will make it the Law of the whole world. I will send forth My servant Eliyahu, who will turn the hearts of the nations to Me. And you, O Israel, you will be the guardian of My Presence, holy within My House, a House of Prayer for all Nations.

“The time has come for sin to be addressed. I have heard it said that ADONAI does not judge, that I am slow to correct. The time has now come for My judgments to be released throughout the earth. My judgments will level the homes of rebels and topple nations. For I have weighed the world on My scales and found it wanting. For those who seek Me, I will gather you to Myself and remove your sins far from you. For those who persist in rebellion against Me, I will release upon you the consequences of your rebellion. I will strike down the evildoers and uproot them from the land. Those who trust in their wealth will find it worthless. Those trusting in a lie will be dismayed. But you who come before Me, I will plant you and never allow you to be uprooted again.

“The fool says in his heart, ‘There is no God,’ or ‘God does not see’. Yet, My eyes range throughout the earth. They will winnow out wickedness with one glance in one moment. Those who devour My people and never call upon Me will be gripped with fear; terror will seize them at the time I come to deal swiftly with their sin.

“I have heard your prayers, O Israel, as violent men sought your lives. Your God rises to your aid. I am your defense. Through deliverance, I draw you to praise Me. I draw you to return to Me whom you have so utterly forsaken. Apart from Me, you shudder in fear. Yet in My Presence, you are immovable. The nations will beat against you and be broken, but you will not be moved. Though enemies rise against you, your neighbors attack you and your allies press you to be silent, I will take residence within you. I will hear your cries in the evening. I will answer your supplication in the morning. I will arise to defend you as I receive your midday prayers. Come to Me, O virgin daughter Israel. Release your burdens unto Me, and I will address your betrayers.

“Your enemies rained down fire upon My land. In fact, you have been troubled and assaulted since your return to Eretz Israel. A day is coming, the day of ADONAI, when I will turn your enemies into dust. Suddenly they will disappear from among you. Every nation fighting against you will be disappointed.

“This time of My deliverance has been delayed by your stubbornness. You have long since rejected My prophetic utterances, so that I had stopped sending them. Over you had come a spiritual stupor. Your sharpness in discerning My will has dulled. Tradition, empty religion, compromise and utter rebellion have all kept My revelation from you. Your wisdom has vanished, and the words of the sages have disappeared. The watchmen no longer watch for My coming, and the prophets’ eyes are closed.

“None of this hides your condition from Me. I see where you are. I see how you are, and I long to bring you back to Myself. On that day, I will speak, and you will hear Me. I will call, and you will respond. Your spiritual eyes will be opened, and you will see the One for whom you have longed.

“My eyes are not closed to the plans you hatch in secret, the alliances you create without consulting Me. The nations will prove a disappointment, and your agreements will be broken. I am sending My Word to you, so that you would consult Me, but you will not consult Me. You will continue to listen to those who are not committed to you. In this season, all of those agreements will come tumbling down. They will shatter like glass. Then you will turn to Me.

“My counsel for you will never agree with the counsel of the nations. I know for which you were born. I made you head of the nations. As you turn away from worldly counsel, My revelation will be released to you. You will hear My voice, and you will apply My instructions. Then your uncleanness will be removed from you, and you will become one people in My hands.

“Your return to Me will be glorious. It will become the light that guides the nations. They are lost in darkness following their own paths. You must not be like them. Everything they revere will be brought to nothing, but you, O Israel, shall receive that for which you have hoped. You will rejoice, as on a Feast Day, when I dwell among you in the midst of the nations.

“My Torah will bring revival among you, and you will bring new life to the world. Their leaders will seek audience with the least of you. Dignitaries will ask for your counsel, as I position you again as the head of the nations and Mashiach reigns on My Holy Mountain.

“Too long you have lived among deceivers. You have sought peace with warriors long enough. My shalom will rush upon you. Shalom will rule over the nation, and all of your enemies will make peace with you. Then you will come up to My Presence; you will learn from Me and prosper. You will train the nations in My ways, and all will walk in My Light.

“No longer will the nations carry out their perverse plans. No longer will they defile their lands. No longer will the profane be common and the holy mocked. Perversity will be removed, and sin will be atoned. They will stop defiling their bodies, their babies, their women. They will stop sacrificing to the gods that demand blood. They will receive the One who can remove sin and oppression. They will learn to live as I designed them to live.

“I will feed the nations just as I feed you. They will learn of My ways and put idolatry behind them. Separate yourselves from their ways now, so that no impure thing will rule over you or thrive within you. You are the keepers of My standard. Return to it completely, so that I can return to you.

“Being the standard bearers of the world has brought you much tsuris, but you must recommit to this calling. If you are faithful in this tumultuous season, you will bear My standard always. You will be My people, and I will be your God. You will behold Him, Mashiach, and He will honor you before men. Suffer for My Name, be rejected by the world, and I will lift you up. Take your stand against wickedness, and the day of righteousness will quickly come.

“Come to Me in fasting; come to Me in prayer. Unite yourselves around My presence, so that I may dwell in the midst of you. Remove from yourselves every unclean thing. Make right judgments now, so that I will find agreement when I come. You have spent enough time bickering amongst yourselves. Agree on My standards and ways. Be one with Me, and you can be one with each other. I have called you rulers of this world, sons of Ha'Elyon, but you must first rightly rule that which I have called you to steward in this season. I am with you. I will guide you as you lead, but you must come together. You must decide to unite around Me.

“Then I will come and remove the external pressure, as I dwell in the center of your unity. You will finally experience rest on every side. I will train you in My ways and discipline you when you go astray, but there will be no one to terrorize you. The world cannot comprehend what I will do in you. In fact, you have stopped truly believing for it yourself, but I will do everything I said I would. The time for fulfillment of My Word is at hand.

“I will restore you—your land, your health, your wealth, your honor. I will bring your people from afar. They will all come to My Holy Mountain. Then My servant David will lead you; the Son of David will sit on the throne. He will rule the world from Yerushalayim, and great will be your shalom.

“My everlasting love for you has never waned. I will always pursue you. Let yourselves be found by Me, and I will restore you completely. You will celebrate My Feasts and eat your fill of your harvests. You will be overjoyed, and your children will all be safe. I am gathering all of Israel from the four corners of the world. I have redeemed you; you are Mine! Your mourning will be turned into dancing, and you will be satisfied with My provision.

“Make a path for My people to travel home for Me. Clear the way for My servant to return. Return to Me, and I will satisfy you in your weariness and remove all of your distress. My covenant with you is an everlasting covenant. In My love for you, I atone for your sins, send you My Spirit and turn your hearts to Me. You have known of Me, but soon you will KNOW Me for yourselves. Then you will introduce Me to the world. For I have always known you, and I will heal you.”

Thus, ends the Word of ADONAI.
