Keith C. Black began his training in martial arts at the age of 10. He joined the Columbia School of Karatedo in West Columbia, SC, in 1995 to continue his training in Karatedo and Ju-Jutsu under the direction of Hanshi Ridgely Abele and Renshi Troy Price. While at the Columbia School of Karatedo, Keith started his training in healing arts by earning his license in massage therapy from South Carolina Massage Therapy Institute in 2000 and completing 300 hours of Seifukujutsu Japanese Restorative Massage program under the instruction of Renshi Tom Ryan in 2002. In 2007, Keith started his training in Modern Arnis with Tapi Tapi Master Ken Smith and earned his Lakan Isa in Modern Arnis in 2014.

In 2004, Keith began his qigong journey with Michael Winn, the senior instruction of Healing Dao USA. In 2017, Keith began training in Taijiquan with Shifu Jose Perez and at the same time training in Baguazhang & Xingyiquan with Kyoshi Paul Cote.

In 2018, Keith enrolled into Medical Qigong Doctorate course at the Tranquil Cloud Template under the direction of Kyoshi Tony D'Angelo. Today, Keith is three modules away from the completion of the program.

In addition to the core training in karatedo, jujutsu, modern arnis and Chinese Internal Martial Arts, Keith also trained in wing chun, chin na, kobudo, silat, and kyusho.

Keith is one of the founding members of Shuri-Te Bujutsu-Kai (SBK) and continues to teach at SBK events.
